

ACCUSED IN KILLINGS—SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The murder trial of these four Menard prison convicts opened Tuesday in the Sangamon Circuit Court with 125 prospective jurors available the first week. The convicts were alleged to be the ring leaders of a Nov. 23 riot in the prison dining room. Three guards were stabbed to death. Seated from left, Alonzo Jones, John W. Stamps, William Earl Bassett, Prentiss Griffin. Left standing Deputy Jack Johnson. (File photo 3/8 arraignment) (UPI Telephoto)

Monsoon Rains Ahead

B52s Pound Supply Route

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American B52 bombers pounded the southern end of the main Viet Cong supply route again today in the continuing drive to cripple the Communists' expected monsoon offensive.

For the seventh out of the past eight days, the Stratofortresses unloaded their 750-pound bombs on suspected enemy supply and troop areas in the Communist C Zone about 65 miles northwest of Saigon and not far from the Cambodian border.

Humphrey Backs LBJ Policies On Red China

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today that only when Communist China does an about face on aggressive policies should she be considered for United Nations membership.

Humphrey, who has staunchly supported President Johnson's Asian policies, expressed this view after Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and George McGovern, D-S.D., proposed in the Senate Tuesday the creation of a high-level commission to reassess U.S. relations with China.

Kennedy suggested it might be possible to work out an arrangement by which mainland China and Taiwan could have seats in the world organization. McGovern called for an end to U.S. opposition to China's admission, with the international body to determine Formosa's status.

Without direct reference to these proposals, Humphrey was asked in an interview what he believes U.S. policy should be with regard to admission of Communist China.

He replied: "When Communist China is willing to consider membership in the U.N. on the basis of abiding by the charter, being a peace-loving nation, a nation that will respect the principles of the charter, and also when she ceases to insist that Formosa be handed over to her, I think she would be a likely candidate for the U.N."

Humphrey went on to say, however, that mainland China had never applied for U.N. membership except with demands for revision of the present charter.

Cop Finds His Man; Award To Be Asked

CHICAGO (AP) — Policeman Dennis O'Hryn can stop looking for his good samaritan. He was found Tuesday.

The samaritan is Robert Shutter, 50, part owner of a South Side ballroom. O'Hryn's boss, Lt. John Barry, said he will recommend that Shutter be given a citizens award because "if it weren't for him, my policeman might have been badly injured."

It happened Monday as O'Hryn curbed a car for running a red light. O'Hryn said the two men inside the car attacked him when he spotted marijuana cigarettes inside.

O'Hryn said six cars drove past as he grappled with the pair for control of his revolver. Finally, a man pulled over, asked if he could help. "I told him to get on the radio (in the police car) and call for help."

O'Hryn said. The man did so. Reinforcements arrived at once and the two men were arrested. But the samaritan left the scene before O'Hryn could find out who he was.

Tuesday, a witness telephoned police and told them the samaritan was Shutter.

"Though other people were indifferent and didn't stop, this man did," Lt. Barry said of Shutter. "We need more citizens like him."

Shutter, the father of two boys, said, "If they (his sons) are ever in a spot, I hope someone will do the same for them." Police charged O'Hryn's assailants, Clifford Knight, 30, and Lorenza Carter, 44, of Fort Wayne, Ind., with possession of narcotics, battery and resisting arrest.

Seek Jury In Menard Murder Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — An objection to the death penalty appeared the big obstacle as the quest resumed today for a jury to try four Menard Prison inmates accused of murdering three guards.

All of the 16 prospective jurors questioned on opening day Tuesday were dismissed, most because "they objected to the death penalty."

About 35 members of the jury panel remain in Circuit Court in Sangamon County. Creel Douglas is the judge.

The court excused 11 jurors Tuesday, the defense 3 and the state 2.

Attorneys for the state said the death penalty would be asked for the defendants: John W. Stamps of Granite City, Ill., William E. Bassett of Fairfield, Ill., and Alonzo H. Jones of Manchester, Tenn. They are charged with murder, attempted murder, armed robbery, arson and holding hostages in a Nov. 23 riot.

Guards who were killed were Lewis Paul of Chester, Arthur Kisor of Murphysboro, and George Wilson of West Frankfort.

Calls On LBJ To Veto Bills Over His Budget

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of a House Republican campaign to cut appropriations called on President Johnson today to veto money bills that exceed his budget.

As an alternative, Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, suggested Johnson send some of his experienced arm-twisters like Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to the Capitol to help hold the line.

Only Tuesday, the House Armed Services Committee voted almost $1 billion in excess of the President's budget request for military procurement.

Bow's comments were in a speech prepared for House consideration of a bill appropriating $10,555,342,500 to the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill contains about $490 million more than the President requested and follows a 1966 pattern of budget-busting on appropriation bills. Bow planned to offer amendments to cut back the bill but was not optimistic about his chances of winning. He hasn't won a battle this year in his war against increased appropriations.

QUEEN MOTHER DANCES HULA

HONOLULU (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth of England, stopping briefly in Hawaii during a tour, danced the hula Tuesday with Duke Kahanamoku, 73, a former Olympic Games swimming champion.

The queen mother took the floor before some 100 persons at a reception in her honor at an airport restaurant. She is en route back to Britain from a trip to Australia, New Zealand and Fiji.

Gov. John A. Burns and other state and U.S. officials greeted the queen mother as her plane arrived. She accepted a floral garland and an inscribed box of koa wood bearing the crest of the islands' last monarch, King Kalakaua.

The queen mother is due in London Thursday morning.

Katzenbach Opens Rights Bill Drive

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach led off today in what promises to be a long and difficult administration campaign for a 1966 civil rights act—the fifth such law in a decade.

He told a House Judiciary subcommittee the proposal is a response to "deep-seated, interconnected and complex problems of racial injustice which are immediate, apparent, and not susceptible to effective treatment without action by Congress now."

Besides its already controversial fair-housing provision—which would ban racial discrimination in the sale, rental and financing of all housing—the bill would provide new federal criminal penalties for racial violence, ban discrimination in the selection of state as well as federal jurors, and give the federal government new weapons to combat public school segregation.

The constitutionality of the housing proposal has already been challenged by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Katzenbach spoke on that point.

Arguing that the constitutional power of Congress to regulate commerce between the states is applicable to housing, the attorney general said:

"There can be no doubt that anything which significantly affects the housing industry also affects interstate commerce. Discriminatory housing practices produce such an effect. They restrict the amount and type of new housing, discourage the repair and rehabilitation of existing housing; remove incentives to the purchase of new furniture and appliances and frustrate the efforts of people to move from job to job and from state to state."

A federal housing law, Katzenbach said, also falls within the 14th Amendment guarantee of equal protection of the laws. "To the extent that this blight on our democracy (segregated living) impedes states and localities from carrying out their obligations under the 14th Amendment to promote equal

Ultramodern Train To Bring New Travel Era

WASHINGTON (AP)—A contract for improved train service between New York and Washington featuring ultramodern cars capable of speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour was announced today by the Commerce Department and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor said the contract will usher in a new era in ground transportation.

Hourly service between New York and Washington—with service every 30 minutes between New York and Philadelphia—is scheduled to begin in October 1967 operating from early morning to late at night under the contract.

Trains at first will travel up to 110 miles an hour and make the trip in less than three hours. Speeds up to 150 miles an hour are contemplated by 1970.

The effort is part of a three-year, $90-million program of high-speed transportation research and development approved by Congress last year.

Connor said the two-year demonstration project, if successful, might be expanded to such areas as San Francisco-Los Angeles-San Diego; Milwaukee-Chicago-Detroit-Toledo-Cleveland; and Portland-Seattle.

GETS TWO YEARS FOR PRINTING FALSE DRAFT CARDS

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Paul Deaton, 20, of Garland, Tex., a former Knox College student, has been given two years probation for printing and distributing false Selective Service cards.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and was given probation Monday by Judge Omer Poos in U.S. District Court.

Deaton was arrested in December in Galesburg for distribution of the cards among other college students. Authorities said the cards were used by students to claim advanced age in places restricted to them. He first pleaded innocent but changed the plea Monday.

Deaton was suspended from the school after his arrest.

FREES PRISONERS TO MARK SON'S BIRTH

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran has freed 64 prisoners to mark the birth of his second son last week.

Those pardoned by Tuesday's royal decree included 10 persons sentenced to life imprisonment.

Issuance of the pardons is traditional following the birth of a royal son and heir.

Say Indonesian Red, Lukman Killed In Escape

TOKYO (AP)—A report from Jakarta today said that M. H. Lukman, No. 2 man in the Indonesian Communist party, was killed last Friday by army troops when he tried to escape from them.

The report came from the semi-weekly newspaper Ampera, which on Monday reported that Lukman had been captured in West Java.

Antara, the official Indonesian news agency, said that Ampera reported today that Lukman was caught at the home of a Chinese doctor near Jakarta by troops of the Siliwangi division and was killed when he tried to run away.

Lukman had been missing since the attempted Communist coup last October. D. N. Aidit, the chairman of the Indonesian Communist party, was reported killed by army troops several months ago.

Ford Admits Too Little Done For Car Safety

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, chairman of the nation's second largest automaker, says the industry should have done more in the past to promote highway safety.

Ford said current congressional hearings on auto safety—which often feature witnesses critical of the industry—are performing "a valuable educational function."

However, Ford told a national purchasing agents convention Tuesday, "automobiles have been subjected to much irresponsible and uninformed criticism. Too much effort has been devoted to assessing guilt, too little to the rational search for constructive solutions."

"Until very recently," Ford said, "most of the initiative for the improvement of traffic safety came from the automobile industry. Nevertheless, with the benefit of hindsight, I wish that we in the industry had done even more even sooner."

"We did not act soon enough and vigorously enough to help combat the rising toll of highway accidents."

LBJ, Aides Take Look At Economy

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential committee meets today amid inkling that the White House may consider new anti-inflation machinery to placate labor and business dissatisfaction with wage-price guidelines.

"It will take a look at the general economic situation and how to cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy," said a spokesman for the newly revived President's advisory committee on labor-management policy.

While there was no hint that Johnson has any thought of abandoning the guidelines, labor members of the committee expressed cautious hope they might be revised to give workers more room to win a bigger share of profits.

The meeting of the 21-man committee follows chief White House economist Gardner Ackley's stiff warning to businessmen Monday that rapidly climbing prices and demands for wage and profit controls could bring on an economic "bust."

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, to whom Ackley directed the administration's strongest appeal to date for price restraint, declined comment on the committee meeting.

Other major business groups also were silent on the two-day meeting to be held in the White House or the executive office building nearby.

Both labor and business have denounced the current wage-price guideline policy, but for different reasons. Labor's complaints have been by far the strongest.

AFLO-CIO President George Meany, a committee member, and other labor leaders argue that the White House formula seeking to limit wage hikes to 3.2 per cent a year tries to put an automatic lid on workers' white leaving free reign for business profits, stock dividends and corporation executives' salaries.

Many recent wage settlements have substantially exceeded the guidelines.

JET'S FUEL TANK FALLS KILLING WOMAN, CHILD
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A fuel tank fell from a 15-year-old jet fighter plane Tuesday and exploded in a slum in suburban Buenos Aires. A 60-year-old woman and her 6-year-old granddaughter were killed when trapped in their hut by the flames.

SNEEZES LESS OFTEN
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — June Clark was sneezing one to 18 minutes apart today, her father said.

James Clark said his 17-year-old daughter still can't sneeze but said she has continued to be able to breathe out of her nose since the family's trip to Mesa, Ariz.

The trip which the family hoped would cure the ailment entirely, also opened June's nostrils for the first time.

June was forced to drop out of high school because of the sneezing siege, which entered its 18th week Tuesday. Doctors have been unable to come up with a cure.

PRIMARIES AT A GLANCE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ALABAMA — Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, wife of segregationist Gov. George Wallace, swept to victory in Democratic gubernatorial nomination despite opposition from civil rights groups.

The civil rights forces took solace in the nomination of the first Negro in state's history to House seat in Legislature. Negroes also led white opponents in three sheriff's races.

FLORIDA — Gov. Haydon Burns and Miami Mayor Robert King High finished one-two in Democratic gubernatorial primary and will face each other in runoff.

ALABAMA — Sen. John J. Sparkman, 1956 Democratic vice presidential candidate, won renomination to Senate seat by a wide margin.

INDIANA — Rep. Richard L. Roudsback won from Rep. Ralph Harvey the Republican nomination for Congress in the 10th District in which redistricting had placed them both.

NEW MEXICO — Gene Lusk of Carlsbad clinched the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, winning easily over former Gov. John Burroughs.

OHIO — Gov. James A. Rhodes, a Republican, swept to easy renomination GOP primary. State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. won the Democratic nomination. In another key race, Robert Taft Jr., overwhelmed a John Birch Society member, William E. Flax, in the Republican primary.

OKLAHOMA — Former Gov. Raymond Gary finished first in the 13-man Democratic gubernatorial primary and will face Preston Moore, former American Legion national commander, in May 24 runoff. State Sen. Dewey Bartlett and John N. (Happy) Camp apparently will face each other in the Republican runoff that day.

Under the agreement with the Vietnamese government, no on-base facilities can be set up until the commercial facilities in Saigon have been in operation for 30 days. One commercial facility was scheduled to be opened this week.

There are no plans for automatic banking of servicemen's paychecks with interest as an inducement to the GIs to keep their money in the bank.

But officials said the possibility has been discussed of offering servicemen checking accounts with payment of interest on the balance they maintain with the bank. The Treasury plan also would eliminate any service charges to servicemen.

No interest rate has been fixed for such a plan but one feature might be that the checks a serviceman wrote could be cashed only in the United States. This would enable a serviceman to send money home without the possibility of it falling into the Viet Nam black market.

At present, servicemen can buy money orders which list only an amount but no name. These can be resold at a high price for Viet Nam money on the black market and then exchanged by the black marketeer for dollars.

On the other hand, the North Western has agreed to turn over the same trackage to the Santa Fe Railway system for $100-million as a condition for approval of its bid for control.

The North Western, supported by at least a dozen other western railroads that contend they would be injured by a Rock Island-Union Pacific merger, has offered a counter-proposal to acquire control of the Rock Island now, with actual merger in the future.

The two proposals have been consolidated in the current hearing.

The Union Pacific offer approved by Rock Island shareholders figures to be worth about $43 a share or a total of $125-$400-million. North Western's counter-offer is estimated at around $70 a share or $204-million.

Railroad Merger Battle At ICC Hearings Stage

By EARL AYKROID
CHICAGO (AP) — The battle between the Union Pacific and the Chicago and North Western railroads for control of the 7,800-mile Rock Island Lines moved into its final stages today.

The Interstate Commerce Commission opened hearings, expected to continue for at least a month, to determine if a merger of the Rock Island with either of the opposing railroads would be in the public interest.

The Union Pacific is seeking ICC approval to carry out a merger with the Rock Island that directors and shareholders of both carriers have endorsed by vote.

The North Western, supported by at least a dozen other western railroads that contend they would be injured by a Rock Island-Union Pacific merger, has offered a counter-proposal to acquire control of the Rock Island now, with actual merger in the future.

The two proposals have been consolidated in the current hearing.

The Union Pacific offer approved by Rock Island shareholders figures to be worth about $43 a share or a total of $125-$400-million. North Western's counter-offer is estimated at around $70 a share or $204-million.

The Union Pacific has agreed to sell to the South Pacific Railroad about 3,500 miles of Rock Island trackage south and southwest of Kansas City if the merger is approved.

On the other hand, the North Western has agreed to turn over the same trackage to the Santa Fe Railway system for $100-million as a condition for approval of its bid for control.

GIs In Viet May Soon Have Home-Town Banks

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — American servicemen in Viet Nam soon may have a home-town bank right in their back yard.

Two of the United States' largest banks — the Bank of America and Chase Manhattan — have been granted permission by the Vietnamese government to set up commercial facilities in Saigon.

Treasury Department officials said today present plans call for both banks to establish what are known as banking facilities — as distinguished from branches — at some military bases in the Saigon area as a convenience for American servicemen.

Eventually, the Treasury hopes about a dozen such facilities will be available to servicemen at bases throughout the country including the big Marine base at Da Nang.

One side effect of the plan could be to dry up some of the dollars which are finding their way into Viet Nam's black market. At least that's the hope of some government officials.

American servicemen do not now have U.S. banking facilities available to them in Viet Nam. The proposed facilities would be similar to those set up in countries such as France and Germany where many American troops are stationed.

Under the agreement with the Vietnamese government, no on-base facilities can be set up until the commercial facilities in Saigon have been in operation for 30 days. One commercial facility was scheduled to be opened this week.

There are no plans for automatic banking of servicemen's paychecks with interest as an inducement to the GIs to keep their money in the bank.

But officials said the possibility has been discussed of offering servicemen checking accounts with payment of interest on the balance they maintain with the bank. The Treasury plan also would eliminate any service charges to servicemen.

No interest rate has been fixed for such a plan but one feature might be that the checks a serviceman wrote could be cashed only in the United States. This would enable a serviceman to send money home without the possibility of it falling into the Viet Nam black market.

At present, servicemen can buy money orders which list only an amount but no name. These can be resold at a high price for Viet Nam money on the black market and then exchanged by the black marketeer for dollars.

Alabama Negro Also Wins

By Raymond J. Crowley
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wallaces of Alabama, symbols of old-time segregation, have chalked up a victory of surprise proportions despite all efforts of civil rights forces to stop them.

Lurleen Wallace, blonde, 39-year-old mother of four, thumped nine male candidates so thoroughly in Tuesday's Democratic primary that there will be no runoff for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

Outdistanced badly was Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, a racial moderate who had criticized Gov. George C. Wallace for his tactics. Flowers had counted on depriving Mrs. Wallace of a clear majority, and thus forcing a runoff.

But it was not to be and — provided Mrs. Wallace wins the November election — her husband will still be the top power in Alabama, making the decisions for his wife as a $1-a-year aide. By law, he is barred from succeeding himself officially.

Choosing words from her husband's lexicon, Mrs. Wallace told a victory celebration of supporters:

"We will continue to stand up for Alabama. We renew our pledge to continue the type of government — which apparently has been endorsed today."

Negro voters in Alabama — their number doubled under the federal voting rights act of 1965 — turned out in long lines, but so did whites.

In all, Alabama has an estimated 230,000 Negroes — 20 per cent of the state's voting population — eligible to vote.

One result of the Negro surge was the apparent nomination for the Alabama House of Representatives of attorney Fred D. Gray of Tuskegee, first Negro nominee for the legislature since Reconstruction. Three other candidates of his race were ahead for legislative seats.

Other primary results: Alabama — Sen. John J. Sparkman, Democrat, won renomination by a large margin.

Indiana — Rep. Richard L. Roudsback won an uphill battle against Rep. Ralph Harvey for the Republican nomination for Congress from the revamped 10th District into which redistricting had thrown them both. Harvey had represented the old 10th for 18 of the last 20 years.

Author Perplexed By Strange Activity Outside Hotel In China

EDITOR'S NOTE — This article is a lukewarm about the war in Viet Nam. I assume this is the official point of view, because official views are all the same. Yet the Chinese certainly want foreigners to think they are ready for war. Take, for example, the curious goings-on outside my Nanking hotel. Early on a Sunday morning — and Sunday is a rest day in China, people are sur-na as in other countries — gangs of blue-clad girls were dragging in truckloads of earth from outside, and others were stamping it down on to a raised mound beyond some magnolia trees. I asked what all the girls were doing. "They are building an air raid shelter." I have seen some more air-raid shelters in China, but not many. The Nanking hotel one perplexes me still. Why build a shelter for the foreign guests of a tourist hotel? Why make such a show of it? Are foreigners supposed to believe that the Chinese expect war? And further, do the Chinese really fear war, or is the Central Committee merely using the threat to boost morale after recent reverses on the economic and diplomatic fronts?

The position with regard to the Vietnamese conflict is extraordinarily complex. Posters and cartoons show cowardly GIs surrendering to Vietnamese soldiers. There is a Vietnamese martyr saint, Yuan Wen-tse, who was executed in October 1964 for allegedly attempting to blow up Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at Saigon. I saw an interesting play about him on my last night in Peking.

At all films, concerts and operas I went to, the audience applauded nationalist sentiments, but this time there was no clapping until the final curtain. Furthermore, nowhere in China have I seen a picture of Ho Chi Minh, and everyone is extremely cautious on the question of support.

A very intelligent and neutral Vietnamese journalist I know was told in one factory: "Viet Nam is an incentive for us to increase production."

She asked: "Do you mean to work hard in order to send your goods to North Viet Nam?" "No, to help us encourage our workers to increase their productivity."

Almost the same words were used to me in a commune outside Canton. The group-mind of China was sure of this point.

Yet I feel that the Chinese believe that the Viet Cong is composed of South Vietnamese who are heroically liberating their country. The Chinese compare the situation to their own in 1945-49. Then they had finished a war with Japan, as the Vietnamese later ousted the French.

Kai-shek and his followers, in Communist eyes corrupt and nepotistic, just like Ngo Dinh Diem and Nguyen Cao Ky. Then, there were Americans suing for peace while supporting the Kuomintang government with arms and supplies. Then, too, there was a liberation front, headed by Mao Tze-tung.

Dean Rusk has said that China is seeking to establish a hegemony in Asia under the pretext of supporting wars of liberation. The Chinese answer, which is acceptable when you have seen the country itself, is that they have much too much to do within their own frontiers to harbor such ambitions. The cautious sympathy they profess for the Vietnamese would seem to support this.

What concerns China are American intentions. Shelters may be few — the only one I saw in Peking was on the university campus — but there is plenty of evidence of a militaristic mood.

In some ways the face of China already is the face of a country at war. Trains and public places are crowded with soldiers. Large groups of these were being harangued in the museum of the Chinese revolution in Peking. In the courtyard of the military museum, children lined up on a freezing day to inspect the reassembled wreckage of a U2 and two pilotless spy planes.

Christianity Reached Poland 1000 Years Ago

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — One thousand years ago a shrewd prince called Mieszko the First united Polish tribes populating the Oder and Vistula river basins of central Europe.

His smartest move, historians say, was to introduce Christianity into his court in the year 966. That gave the new Polish state links with Western Europe and deprived Germans of a pretext for converting Poles to the faith by fire and sword.

Ten centuries later, Poland's church leaders and its links with the West are under heavy attack by a ruling Communist government, as the nation celebrates the millennium of Mieszko's reign.

Instead of one Polish millennium celebration, Communist state and the Roman Catholic Church are staging competing affairs, airing their basic conflicts.

The sharpened church-state struggle has ruled out a millennium visit by Pope Paul VI. As the time nears for the main Church celebration, May 3 at the shrine of the "Black Madonna" at Czestochowa, each side accuses the other of trying to steal the show.

It was to Czestochowa that the Church had invited the Pope and Catholic bishops from 66 nations, including Germany.

The Germans were invited in a now famous letter of forgiveness and reconciliation. The government condemned it as interference in foreign policy. Later it closed the Polish frontiers to invited Church dignitaries.

Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka suggested in a speech that one reason for the closing is to avoid friction with the Soviet Union. He said the government has not agreed to the admission of the visitors would mean approving actions of the Catholic primate of Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński.

Gomulka accused the cardinal of using the millennium to portray Poland as a bulwark of Christianity against the East. He called this "tantamount to sowing discord between the Polish and Soviet peoples, to breaking up the Soviet-Polish alliance."

In his speech to more than 100,000 at Poznan, Gomulka described Cardinal Wyszyński as "this irresponsible shepherd of shepherds fighting with our people's state."

The cardinal conducted millennium celebrations at Poznan at the same time as Gomulka. Catholic throngs were smaller than the crowd the government assembled but their size and enthusiasm demonstrated the Church's strength in Poland.

The primate and bishops were cheered with shouts of "long live," and serenaded with the singing of "Sto Lat," which means, "May you live 100 years."

Cardinal Wyszyński told the audience: "Our holiday was maliciously opposed by their holiday but we forgive our trespassers. Let them know that we have so much of this virtue that we can offer it for export."

GREENE CO. HAS 14 STATE SCHOLARS

WHITE HALL — Winners of 1966-67 State Scholarships have been announced by Dr. Lloyd S. Michael, Chairman of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, and include the following from Greene County: Roodhouse, John M. Bronstein; Carrollton, Jane Cunningham; Melvin Ray Diehl; Nancy Kay Hamman; Linda Rose Little; Richard Pressler; Robert Alan Roads; John Linden Roll; Donald J. Schmidt; Greenfield, Katherine Melvin; White Hall, Steven Max Black; Stuart, D. Black; David L. Justis, Michael Painter.

More than 32,000 high school seniors competed for these scholarships, a total of 9,940 students qualifying on the basis of high school academic record and performance required on the examination. All of these students will receive Certificates of Merit in recognition of their final college plans.

White Hall News
David E. Coates, a volunteer, of White Hall was inducted into the Armed Services on April 18th, thirteen men being ordered for preinduction physical examination on the same date. Enlisting during the month of April from White Hall was Kenneth A. Lockhart, who joined the Marines.

Lynn K. Seely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Seely of this city was among the students at the Illinois Reserve Officers' Training School, received a Superior Military Musician Award during ceremonies held at the University during Mother's week which ended April 29th, 1966.

Accepted Rejected

Again the Ivy League colleges have made their selections. Letters have gone out to all who applied for entrance next fall. Altogether, there were 49,002 applications. Acceptances were sent to 13,997. The other 71 per cent of all who applied were rejected. By the time school opens the number accepted will shrink to a total of 9,165 freshmen, because of duplicated applications and changed plans.

Difficulties?

Russ Stop Building Their Antimissile

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today the Russians started to build antimissile facilities some time ago but stopped, apparently because they ran into difficulties.

This was the firmest information yet provided that the Soviet Union actually had begun, at least at one stage, to emplace a system designed to try to knock down U.S. Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles.

The officials were vague as to the present stage of the Soviet antimissile program. They said they do not know whether the Soviets are deploying an antimissile system.

This disclaimer was taken with some skepticism. The United States makes it its business to keep a close check on such developments inside the Soviet Union, in part through the use of reconnaissance satellites.

Reports of antimissile sites being erected around Leningrad and Moscow date back to 1963 but there has never been any official confirmation. The Soviets have made claims that they have the ability to knock down U.S. missiles and American authorities have not challenged this.

However, the officials who spoke of the start which the Soviets made on constructing antimissile facilities stressed that — regardless of what kind of a system the Soviets might install — the U.S. missile force can penetrate any defense system and destroy the Soviet Union, if necessary.

It was noted that the United States has put great effort in development of what are called penetration aids.

These are devices of various sorts designed to enable U.S.

Jacksonville Journal, Jacksonville, Ill., May 5, 1966 3 missiles to evade or foil Communist antimissile batteries. Among other things, these aids include a variety of decoy devices, maneuverable missile warheads and multiple warheads.

Polly's Pointers The Creeping Jacket Caper

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Polly's Problem

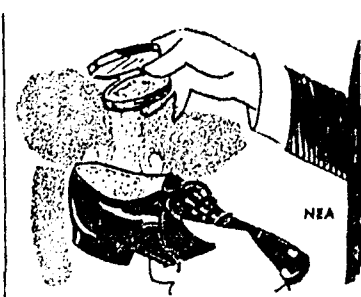

DEAR POLLY — I recently bought a lightweight quilted nylon jacket that has an elastic waistband in the back only, not all the way around. The jacket for storing damp things waiting is comfortable except for one thing. Normal movements of the body, no matter how slight, cause the jacket to creep up so I am constantly pulling it back down to my waist. The slippery finish of the nylon seems to be causing the creeping. I hope some of the readers can suggest a remedy. —DONALD

DEAR POLLY — When my plastic shower curtains become too unsightly for further use I no longer discard them. I use them for making laundry bags which prove to be invaluable for separating white and colored things to take to the washing machine. They are equally good for storing damp things waiting to be ironed. —HELEN tracks of my sliding glass show-er door by bending to a right angle bristles of a percolator brush. This makes an excellent tool. Anyone having the unhappy combination of hard water and an older bathtub that has lost its original glossy china-like finish will find that a stiff nylon brush (the nail cleaning type) is much more efficient than a cloth for removing a stubborn bathtub ring. I now find that particularly unpleasant job quicker, it requires less hand rubbing and is not dreaded nearly so much. —M. D. B.

DEAR POLLY — My son developed squeaky shoes while he was ushering at a wedding.

Someone came up with the idea of sprinkling talcum powder in his shoes but there was none available. One of the attendants had loose face powder which he used and it worked for school at the same time. If I win a Polly Dollar it was able to escort the groom's mother down the aisle without co-operation. —SHIRLEY

Thatched Huts Look Very Real To Veteran

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An officer stood in a prison compound and surveyed the thatched huts about him. He was a veteran of Viet Nam. To him, this was very real.

It was meant to be realistic. This is the Combat and Survival School of the Air Force 4th Mobile Communications Group. The Air Force believes that if an airman is captured in time of war, he ought to know how to escape.

And if he escapes, he should have every chance of surviving the rigors of the jungles of Viet Nam.

Lessons of escape and survival begin in the classrooms at Hunter Air Force Base at Savannah and shift to classrooms at Ft. Stewart. But the real tests come in the prison compound and the surrounding swamps and piney woods of coastal Georgia.

The classroom instructors become prison guards. The students become prisoners of war.

Frequently, an instructor purposely will make a miscount of prisoners assigned to a work detail. This is a key situation for a prisoner who wants to escape.

If he doesn't take advantage of it, he gets a mark against him. Another instructor acting as a sentinel will lower his guard deliberately, giving a prisoner the opportunity to overpower him and escape. If the prisoner doesn't seize the opportunity, he gets a mark against him.

The course lasts 19 days. More than 600 men have passed through the camp since March 1965.

The training is mandatory for members of the communications group, because they may be called on to establish communication units for ground forces in Viet Nam.

There was a day when the Army and the Marines provided protection to Air Force communications men. But under new Air Force concepts, this now is up to the communications men.

To an airman, Hinesville is the equivalent of being sent "up the river." But they know it is a test of survival which could mean the difference of life and death.

ASHLAND STUDENTS PLACE IN STATE FINE ARTS CONTEST

ASHLAND — Fifty-eight students from Ashland Grade school participated in the State Fine Arts contest held in Natick-Harristown Saturday. Ashland was one of 55 schools participating. Students who had received superior rating at the district contest March 26th were eligible.

Ratings were as follows: Claudia Spradlin, dramatic reading, first place; and Kathy Pschirrer, second place; Mike Fry, serious poetry, second; and Gary Martin, second; Connie Winner, drawing, third; vocal solos: Rhonda Dorsett, Bill Bast and J. R. Blair, firsts; Jeanie Bloomfield, Kathy Campbell, David Clemons and Tom Latham, seconds; Stanley Way, third; voice ensembles: sixth grade boys sextet, 1st, Rick Briggs, J. A. Cook, Steve Hannel, Tom Heather, Steven Newell and Mike Roy; eighth grade boys quartet, 1st, place, Bill Bast, Mike Bloomfield, Stanley Fulton and Tom Latham; seventh grade boys sextet, 2nd place, David Clemons, Tim Cook, Mike Douglass, Danny Keltner, Greg Lepper and Ronnie Ruppel; eighth grade mixed octet, 1st place, Jane Atwood, Ray Bloomfield, Phil Durako, Kathy Campbell, Stanley Fulton, Barbara Hill, Stanley Way, Marsha Yancy; girls sextet, 2nd place, Jeanie Bloomfield, Jane Elliott, Patty Hardy, Pam Merritt, Pam Pschirrer, Patty Scholes.

The 6th, 7th and 8th grade chorus composed of 42 students, also received a first place. This makes the third straight year the grade chorus has received first place at the state contest. Carolyn Lepper was the accompanist.

PATRICIA HALL OF VERSAILLES SHOWER HONOREE

VERSAILLES—Miss Patricia Hall, who will soon become the wife of Raymond G. Hall, Jr., of St. Louis, was honored at a miscellaneous shower at her home April 9. Hostesses were her sisters, Mrs. Karen Walton and Miss Vicki Hall.

Charles White, Raymond Gibson and Thomas Brasser of McConnell AFB Kansas, spent the weekend with Mrs. Leta White and other relatives. On Sunday, they attended a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Franklin and Angela of Mr. Sterling.

Others present were Mrs. Ray White of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Browning and Miss Elizabeth White of Wagoner, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kirgan and three children of Mexico, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Franklin were afternoon callers. The occasion also marked Mrs. Kirgan's birthday.

Mrs. Hazel Harris of Virginia and Mrs. Ray Ravenscroft of Maitland were recent visitors in Versailles.

Mrs. Raymond Culbert returned to her home last week after undergoing gall bladder surgery at Culbertson Hospital in Rushville recently. Mrs. Francis Colbert of Oney, Mo., returned to her home after spending two weeks with the children.

Mrs. John Mittenix, Renee and John were weekend visitors in the home of her mother Mrs. Paye Stone.

CENTENNIAL THEME FOR ROODHOUSE C. OF C DINNER

ROODHOUSE—The April 20 meeting of the Roodhouse Chamber of Commerce held at the Methodist Church carried out the Centennial theme and fifty nine members and guests were present.

The women of the church served a fried chicken dinner, family style, from tables covered with paper cloths in red and white check, and centered with lighted old-fashioned lamps, and dishes in antique style, many of which were authentic.

Members and all of the church women were in Centennial attire and the Brothers of the Brush were much in evidence with top hats, ties, and vests in keeping with the theme. Antiques were on display. The invocation was offered by Rev. H. L. Janvin.

President Ray Mayfield welcomed the group and the program numbers and the guests and officers at the head table were introduced or presented by him.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Landon of the Comtryst Studios in Jerseyville, furnished the program. The Landon's now have a studio in Roodhouse as well. Pictures of the Centennial group were taken by the Landon's and by others.

The program opened with a test on "Identification in Color." Magnified pictures in color had been taken of everyday objects and shown by the use of slides. Papers and pencils were handed out for the test. Papers were exchanged when the test was completed and awards given to Ward K. Ballard, who guessed eighteen of the twenty-one of the pictures correctly, and to Mrs. E. G. Smith.

The next portion of the program "Art Work on the Negative," given by Mrs. Landon who explained and demonstrated the process.

Mr. Landon discussed the different finishes on display and read the poem by Edgar Guest, "Her Photograph" with illustrations provided by some of the photographs taken by them.

During the business session, President Mayfield reported on the $500 survey made recently to ascertain as to possibilities in connection with the area motel project.

General chairman of the Centennial Corporation, Frank A. Hopkins, reported that all committees are functioning well for the upcoming Centennial celebration. President Mayfield reminded the members that the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in September.

Door prize was drawn for Connie's Beauty Salon but was not awarded since no representative was present.

Roodhouse News: Mrs. Pearl Allen, who has been a medical patient at the White Hall hospital, returned to her home, Tuesday, much improved in health.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Christensen were his niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Al Zetter, Jacksonville, and his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Christensen, and son, Bluffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitney have returned from a visit of two weeks with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brooks, and family, Cincinnati, Ohio. Also spending the weekend in the same home were Mr. Brooks' mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Stultz, Springfield.

POPULATION DECLINE: Oak Ridge, Tenn., headquarters for the United States atomic energy program, the Manhattan project, declined from a peak population of 75,000 in 1945 to 27,169 in 1950.

BARBARA BELTON IS HONORED AT BRIDAL SHOWER: Miss Barbara Belton was honored recently at a bridal shower given by Linda Marie Tribble.

Shower prizes were won by Miss Lana Little and Mrs. Donna Farrell.

Present were the guest of honor, Barbara Belton; Virginia Stucker, Shirley Haerle and the hostesses.

Sending gifts were Mrs. Sammie Hunt, Irene Leeper, Marilyn DeFries, Marilyn Wagner and Rosena Tribble.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

VIET NAM'S TOLL—American combat fatalities in Viet Nam now exceed the lives lost in three of the nation's most conflicts. The Vietnamese toll from the start of 1965, when the major American buildup and direct combat role got under way, through the first quarter of 1966—a period of 15 months—is greater than for the War of 1812, the Mexican and Spanish-American wars and not far short of the Revolution.

Henpecked Cops Write More Tickets: Boyle

By HAL BOYLE. NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Henpecked traffic cops write more tickets than those who are boss at home.

Bankers wear vests more often than the members of any other occupation. Kids and dogs today don't have as much fun as kids and dogs did 50 years ago.

Guys with clammy palms always hold on the longest when they are shaking hands with you. I always feel sorry for people who go to a racetrack on a rainy day. They must lead sorry lives if they can't think of a better way to pass the time.

By DON McKEE. MONTREAL, N.C. (AP) — Leisure, not the nuclear bomb, probably represents the greatest threat to American civilization and it is up to the church to provide a counterforce, the thoughtful Presbyterian minister says.

You'd never guess one of the most annoying problems that faces a minister is simply mailing a letter.

ROODHOUSE — A former Roodhouse resident, James W. Roodhouse of East Peoria, was elected president of the Illinois Chapter of the American Physical Therapy Association at the annual meeting held at St. Joseph's Hospital in Chicago on April 16.

Mr. Roodhouse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roodhouse, Sr. and is a graduate of Roodhouse Community High School. He is administrator of the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in Peoria.

This is the first time in the history of the chapter that the office has been held by a member outside the Chicago area. Mr. Roodhouse was elected for a two-year term.

Frank A. Hopkins has changed the front of his jewelry store into a store front which residents years ago might have seen in Roodhouse. The walls behind the show windows have been shingled and white square partitions built on the front of the windows giving it the effect of many small panes.

The top of the store front features a large white wagon wheel with a large black pot holding red geraniums.

Mr. Hopkins, as manager of the family store, is featuring a mystery article of years ago each week in the store window and people are invited to stop in the store and register their guesses as to what it is. All this is in keeping with the Centennial theme.

LOST SOME POPULARITY — WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Guy Goodwin, assistant U.S. attorney here, thought to encourage his newspaper boy by writing a long, enthusiastic letter nominating the youngster in a newsboy popularity contest here.

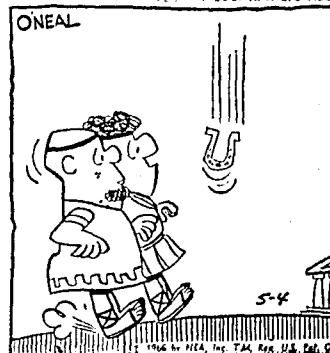

"I don't know what happened," Goodwin said later, "But he missed our house with the next three editions."

Ignorance, Prejudice Against Foreigners Everywhere In China

EDITOR'S NOTE — U.S. reporters had come to pay him tribute. In those days visitors were known as foreign devils; today they are called foreign friends. Even today, when tourists from all Western countries except America are allowed in to the big cities, a foreigner is something of a surprise. Even the cars — nearly all cars are foreign, sometimes American or British, but mostly East European — provided by the tourist service attract crowds wherever they are parked. Mild but friendly stares of curiosity surround you until you soon become used to them. And children

By FRANK TUOHY
SHANGHAI (AP) — Frightening ignorance and prejudice about foreigners exist everywhere in China. It was one of the constant things I experienced on my first visit there. Traditionally the Emperor of China believed that all foreign-

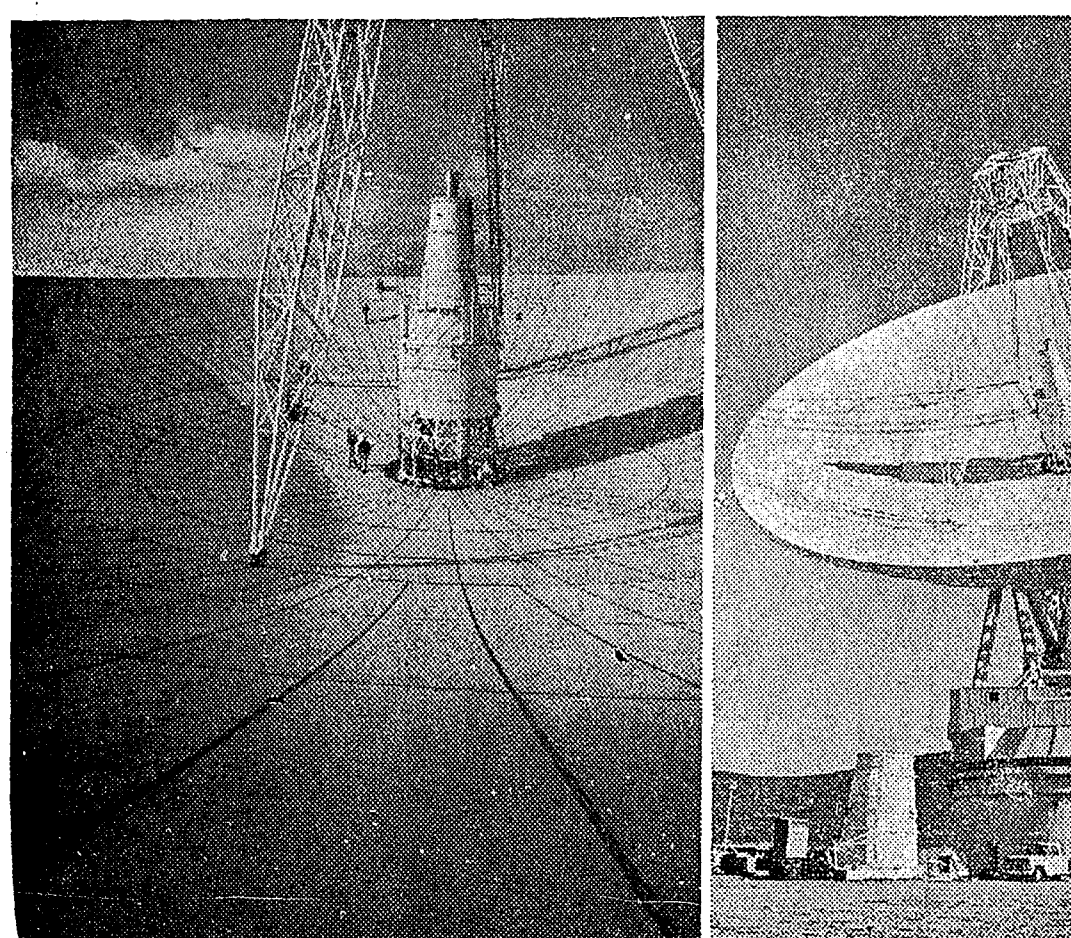

We were told that children learn to distinguish between the perhaps innocent foreigner and his wicked governmental system. But how can they know that the foreigner is innocent if they are kept ignorant of his world, his history and culture? I visited a university English class where students, though drilled to pronounce such tongue twisters as "Bureaucracy, imperialism, revisionism," were taught nothing about America or Britain, except that Negroes are whipped for smoking in the street, and that British children are still crowding into Oliver Twist's workhouse. There were libraries of British and American books on the campus but the last date of withdrawal in the mass of the books I leafed through was 1948.

Tribesmen of eastern Africa use the tenacious jaws of soldier ants to close their cuts.

RED HOT MOMMY—There's a blazing fire on the studio bedroom set of the film, "Picture Mommy Dead," but it's well under control. The fiery moment is the murder mystery's climactic scene. At left, a studio grip holds a shield to protect the camera lens from the blaze while stars Susan Gordon and Don Ameche, playing father and daughter, begin the scene. "Mommy" of the title is just visible, lower center on the floor beneath the table, in dummy form. At right is how she looks in more lively scenes—in the form of Zsa Zsa Gabor, who stepped into the role when the original star, Hedy Lamarr, was dropped after shoplifting charges.

Lodge Relaxes At Seaside Home Before Report

BEVERLY, Mass. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, relaxed today at his seaside home, taking a few days off before going to Washington to report to President Johnson.

Lodge and his wife, Emily, flew into Boston Tuesday aboard an Air Force plane after a stopover in Rome during which he had a 40-minute visit with Pope Paul VI. Mrs. Lodge has been staying in Hong Kong since they went to the Far East last August.

The Lodges were met at Logan International Airport by his sons, George and Henry, and the latter's wife, Elenita.

Lodge read a brief statement to newsmen saying only that he was glad to be home for a few days with his family, and then left with them by automobile for his home in Beverly, 15 miles north of Boston.

access and equal opportunity in all public aspects of community life," Katzenbach testified, "the 14th Amendment authorizes removal of this impediment."

Katzenbach said new criminal laws are needed as an answer to racial violence.

The new legislative proposal enumerates certain federally protected rights—such as travel, voting, education, housing, and employment—and would make it a federal crime to interfere with persons exercising those rights.

It provides a graduated scale of criminal penalties ranging up to life imprisonment when death results.

Katzenbach said existing legal provisions for the federal government to seek to speed up public school desegregation are deficient. The 1964 Civil Rights Act authorizes the attorney general to file suit when a complaint is filed.

The latest administration proposal would give the Justice Department authority to initiate suits.

Action on the bill started in the House but the big trouble lies in the Senate.

Field Completed For Thursday's Champions Golf

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer arrived Tuesday to complete the field of 101 players for Thursday's opening of the $117,000 Champions International Golf Tournament.

Only four of the top 50 money winners last year—Gary Player, Sam Snead, Paul Hornov, and Bruce Devlin—will be missing when the starting field makes the first PGA challenge of the 7,118-yard, par 36-71 Cypress Creek layout at the Champions Golf Club.

Nicklaus and Palmer were among the last to check in, but they promptly joined Bobby Nichols, Jack Burke Jr., Doug Sanders, and Gay Brewer as favorites to win the $20,000 in top money.

Palmer has not played here since 1961, and Nicklaus skipped the 1965 tournament, but both showed well in the old Houston Classic that changed its name this year with the larger purse and the switch to champions.

Palmer won the Classic in 1957, tied for third in 1959 and lost an 18-hole playoff to Bill Collins in 1960. Nicklaus lost a three-way playoff to Nichols and Dan Sikes in 1962, finished fourth in 1963 and was runner-up to Mike Souchak in 1964.

Nichols, the defending champion, has won $24,117.14 in six previous appearances here but

Nudes Bathing In Beer Cooler Interests Cops

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The facilities of the Milwaukee Art Center have been placed off limits for "spontaneous dramatic performances" following a "happening" in which two nudes bathed in two beer coolers.

Vice squad officers were conducting Tuesday what one called a full investigation of last Friday's "happening."

A group of art students and faculty from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, staged the event which included a nude man and woman.

Orval Zellmer of the Milwaukee vice squad said that he and two detectives were questioning art center leaders and some of the 250 persons who were in the audience.

When police indicated an interest in the happening after it happened art center director Tracy Atkinson said the event was about as sensational as a marble statue in a museum.

Maurice W. Berger, president of the center board of trustees, took a little different view.

"Henceforth the facilities of the art center will not be available for spontaneous dramatic performances," he said.

Both Atkinson and Berger disclaimed any advance knowledge of nudes appearing in the show.

Atkinson explained that "a happening is a kind of extension of abstract art in which the artist is a performer with his canvas."

In other words—two nudes plus motorcyclists, dancers, a grave digger and a fire fighter—all were artists performing off canvas.

Primaries

No other Indiana congressional incumbent fell.

New Mexico—Gene Lusk of Carlsbad won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, beating former Gov. John Burroughs handily. David Cargo held a razor-thin lead over Clifford Hawley for the Republican nomination. Both are state representatives.

Ohio—Gov. James A. Rhodes, Republican, swept to easy renomination. State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., 36, won the Democratic nomination for governor.

Oklahoma—Former Gov. Raymond Gary captured the top spot in the 13-man Democratic gubernatorial primary and will face Oklahoma City Atty. Preston Moore, a former national commander of the American Legion, in the May 24 runoff. In the three-man Republican primary, State Sen. Dewey Bartlett held a slight edge over Waukomis banker John N. (Happy) Camp and they apparently will face each other in the May 24 runoff.

A Negro candidate for sheriff in Macon County led a four-man race and clinched a spot in a runoff primary. Two other Negroes were leading in other contests for sheriff.

But Sheriff James G. Clark of Selma, tough handler of civil rights demonstrators in 1965, was ahead for renomination. Trailing him was Wilson Baker, the former Selma public safety director who was conciliatory toward last year's demonstrators.

Alabama's former public safety director, Albert J. Ling, who made a bid for Negro votes, was swamped in his effort to unseat Sheriff Melvin Bailey of Jefferson County.

Alabama was one of six states that held primaries Tuesday. In another highlight, Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio, son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft who became known as Mr. Republican, got a foot on the comeback trail.

He won Republican nomination for the U.S. House of Representatives, beating by a 4-1 margin an opponent who supports the John Birch Society.

Taft formerly served in the U.S. House, but got caught in the Johnson landslide in a try for a Senate seat in 1964 and lost out to Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young.

In Florida, Gov. Haydon Burns and Miami Mayor Robert King High ran one-two in the Democratic gubernatorial primary, and will face each other in a run-off for the nomination.

This race may have national implications. Burns has said Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is behind the High candidacy, pointing out that three of High's campaign workers are former employees of the federal anti-poverty program headed by Sargent Shriver, a Kennedy brother-in-law.

High ran the late John F. Kennedy's presidential campaign in Florida, but says it is nonsense to contend that Robert Kennedy is behind his candidacy.

Box turtles, gorging on fresh fruit in strawberry season, often become so fat that they cannot close their shells.

will be facing somewhat of a jinx Thursday.

No previous Houston champion has repeated, and eight of the 17 previous defenders have failed to make the 36- or 54-hole cuts. Palmer was a victim of the 36-hole cut in 1958.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Discouraged selling battered the stock market to another big loss late this afternoon and dragged some leading averages to new lows for 1966.

Here was the picture near the close:

The Dow Jones industrial average at 2 p.m. (EDT) was off 11.08 to 910.89, lower than its March 15 closing low of 911.08. The Associated Press average also was at new lows for the year but Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was above its '66 low.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.2 million shares compared with 8.62 million Tuesday.

Both glamor stocks and blue chips were hit hard.

High-priced IBM lost 8. Zentith was down 5. Kennecott also was down 5 following a report of lower earnings.

Eastern Air Lines and Northwest Airlines lost 4. Boeing and Douglas Aircraft 3. United Aircraft, Pan American World Airways, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Motorola, Fairchild Camera, Copper Range and KLM Airlines about 2 each.

Coppers were weaker than most of the cyclical stocks, Anaconda losing 4 and Phelps Dodge 3.

Maganavox dropped more than 4. Admiral 3.

Hess Oil erased an early 2-point gain and showed a net loss of 2.

Atlas Corp., off a fraction, looked like the volume leader thanks to a block of 150,000 shares.

Gold-mining stocks bucked the downtrend. Homestake rose about 1 1/2. American-South African nearly a point, Campbell Red Lake a fraction.

SCM, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Westinghouse Electric (ex-dividend) and Montgomery Ward were among the many 1-point losers.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange fell sharply in heavy trading.

Corporate bonds were unchanged to fractionally lower. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

80 - DAY KEYSTONE WIRE STRIKE ENDS

BARTONVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Workers began returning to their jobs today at the Keystone Steel & Wire Co. plant after some 2,500 employees voted to end an 89-day strike.

The vote Tuesday was 1,509-217 in favor of the new contract with the Independent Steel Workers Alliance. Workers began returning to their jobs at midnight but company spokesmen said it would take about a week for the plant to resume full production.

Negotiators agreed on a three-year contract after a 20-hour bargaining session Sunday. It provides 7-cent-an-hour wage increase, fully-funded pension plan, insurance increases and earlier retirement.

The strike began Feb. 4.

PLANS HEART CONSULTATION — EFFINGHAM, Ill. — Two of her six children look on as Mrs. Phyllis Wright, 40, Effingham, prepares a list of things she must do before she travels to Houston, Texas, May 19 for an appointment to see Dr. Michael DeBaake, famous heart surgeon. No operation is scheduled. She suffers from rheumatic heart disease. (UPI Telephoto)

Amberoid First To Enter Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Amberoid, first horse nominated for the 92nd running of the Kentucky Derby, came up with another first Tuesday when trainer Lucian Laurin beat the gun by 48 hours and entered the colt for Saturday's running of the $125,000-added turf classic at Churchill Downs.

Laurin was surprised to learn that entries are due Thursday by 11 a.m. EDT instead of the day before the race as at most tracks.

He lost no time entering the highly regarded son of Count Amber before returning to New York to saddle a 2-year-old Wednesday in the Youthful Stakes at Aqueduct. Laurin will not return to the Derby scene until late Thursday night.

"I just hope I'll be a good omen for Saturday, first in, first home," said the genial Canadian native who is making his first trip to the Derby.

Not concerned.

Laurin had no concern over the $1,000 entry fee. Racing secretary Alan Lavin reported a $1,000 check from owner Reginald Webster was received Tuesday. It'll cost another $500 to start. It is due at least 45 minutes before the Derby start at 5:45 p.m. EDT. The race, with its usual

France Quitting NATO Affects Men In Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—A new agreement on the status of French troops in West Germany must be worked out to prevail after France pulls out of the North Atlantic alliance's integrated military command, the Foreign Ministry said today.

It released a note delivered to French Ambassador Francois Seydoux Tuesday. It answered President Charles de Gaulle's notice that his troops no longer will be under NATO command after July 1.

"From the time that French armed forces stationed on the federal territory are removed from the control of the Supreme Allied Command Europe without the consent of the remaining members of the Atlantic Alliance, France can no longer exercise the right of residence" as called for in a 1954 treaty, the note said.

The treaty was signed by West Germany and the Western Big Three, all of which have troops here. It ended the wartime occupation status of these forces, and granted what it called full sovereignty to the fledgling Federal Republic.

At present, France has 72,000 army and air force men in southwestern Germany.

London Bridge Falling Down

"Happy Birthday, Your London bridge will fall down."

The cable was signed "Muhammad Ali, heavyweight champion of the world."

In front of Cooper at the Cheshire Cheese in London's Fleet Street—the tavern frequented by Dr. Samuel Johnson, who produced the first English-language dictionary—was a golden trophy.

The trophy is offered by Britain's Boxing News to a Briton who wins the world heavyweight title. The last Briton to win the heavyweight title was Bob Fitzsimmons in 1899.

Jim Wicks, Cooper's manager, said: "Clay has been taught to keep away from a right, now he has to learn to keep away from a left hook and this may cause him trouble."

Cooper, asked about the tender skin over his eyes, said he had been treating it with brine baths for six months, three times a day.

"I think it's doing the trick," he said.

DEMAND AGAIN SCARCE IN GRAINS

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand again was scarce in the grain market today and all commodities continued their weaker trend in moderate to active transactions.

Brokers said a bearish government report on stocks of edible fats and oils impacted on soybeans. They said, though, that additional liberal tenders on May contracts in the pit also contributed to the weakness.

Setbacks ranged to about a cent in nearly all grains. Some of the offerings were believed to have been the stop loss variety.

Wheat was 1/2 to 2 cents a bushel lower, May $1.61; corn unchanged to 1/2 cent lower, May $1.24 1/4; oats 1/4 lower, May 67 1/2 cents; rye 1/2 to 1 cent lower, May $1.17 1/4; soybeans 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher, May $3.02.

Spur Track To New Cass Plant Nears Completion

BEARDSTOWN — The Burlington railroad company has completed its part of the job of providing a spur track from their mainline south of here to the new Oscar Mayer company complex.

Workers for the Trackwork Contracting company, a Kansas Saturday and will continue the spur trackage a half mile further to the plant.

Jerry Riddiough, who is in charge of the plant construction, says that as soon as the spur track is finished Oscar Mayer will take advantage of it.

"The immediate need for the spur track, of course, is to enable us to ship our machines and some of the other factory equipment here by rail," Riddiough said Saturday.

"Completion of the trackage will enable us to get on with the job of scheduling shipments," he added.

When the hog slaughtering plant is in operation the spur track will be utilized in other ways, particularly for bringing animals to the market.

Completion of the work, though months away, still is expected in 1966—the month most commonly set is October.

According to Riddiough progress being made at this time is satisfactory.

Ashland, Jerseyville Pollution Cases Set

Action against two area towns has been filed by the State Sanitary Water Board for alleged pollution of two separate streams near the communities.

The two towns, Ashland and Jerseyville, have been informed by the state board at a meeting Tuesday in Springfield.

The attorney general's office has been requested by the board to file action for penalties against the Village of Ashland for pollution of a tributary of Little Indian Creek unless a satisfactory report on the construction of adequate sewage facilities is received by the June board meeting.

Action for a penalty against the City of Jerseyville for pollution of DeArcy branch will be requested at the board's June meeting unless the city submits a satisfactory progress report and reasonable timetable for construction of adequate sewers before the meeting.

Fish kill damages of $7,712.12 against Federal - North Iowa Grain Co., Bondville, were also levied by the board.

The board requested the attorney general's office to file action against the company for alleged discharge of waters containing major quantities of ammonia chemicals that resulted in killing some 370,000 fish in the Kaskaskia River near Bondville in Champaign and Douglas counties.

Nab Suspect In Robbery Near Mercedosia

Sheriff's deputies late Tuesday arrested the first of two suspects on robbery warrants for the beating and robbery of a Jacksonville man near Mercedosia April 21.

James E. Jackson, 47, who resides in Springfield, was taken into custody Tuesday. He gave a local hotel as his address.

Jackson is being held in the county jail under $10,000 bond. Jackson appeared before Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker Wednesday morning. Public Defender Larry J. Flynn was appointed to represent the defendant in further court appearances. The case was continued to a later date.

Jackson is believed to be one of two men who stopped a car driven by 40-year-old Richard Cruzan of 1417 West Walnut north of Sunset Beach near Mercedosia on April 21. Jackson is thought to be the larger of the pair and reportedly held Cruzan while a smaller man beat him.

Later, the two men fled with $180 in cash from Cruzan's car.

The second suspect is being sought by police in Morgan and surrounding counties.

Warrants were signed on two suspects, including Jackson, Monday afternoon in the office of State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan.

State Candidates Featured At Annual Republican Dinner

Republicans will hear the top of the ticket at the annual fund raising dinner sponsored by the Morgan County Republican Central Committee, Monday, June 6, at McClelland dining hall on the MacMurray College campus.

Charles Percy, candidate for United States Senator; Harris Rowe of Jacksonville, candidate for State Treasurer; and Roy Page, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be the featured guests at the annual $10 a plate affair.

Tickets for the annual banquet are in the hands of Republican precinct committeemen and officeholders throughout Morgan county according to John B. Martin, vice chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

Martin said, "the appearance of the entire slate of state candidates as well as district and local candidates for the various offices just a few days prior to the June 14th Primary Election will provide an opportunity for Morgan county residents to meet and talk with them."

"The fact that the chairman of the central committee (Harris Rowe) is a candidate for state office should provide an even greater highlight for the affair," Martin continued. "Rowe has been busy in all corners of the state during the past few weeks with the Republican caravan, and no doubt will have even less time at home in Jacksonville as the Primary election date approaches."

All candidates for county and district offices will have an opportunity to meet those who attend the fund-raising dinner. A press conference will be held prior to the dinner at the Holiday Inn.

Members of the ticket committee for the Morgan County Republican Central Committee are: John B. Martin, Helen Mayberry, Louise Coop, Harvey Green, Ivan Petefish and Jimmy Fernandes.

The state candidates' caravan will be in the 20th Congressional District June 6 and 7. Jacksonville is the first stop on the tour.

Proceeds of the fund-raising effort will be used locally.

BIOLOGIST WILL SPEAK FRIDAY TO AUDUBON SOCIETY

The Morgan County Audubon Society will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday night May 6, in the Browning Room at the Campus Center, MacMurray College.

Oliver Fillmore, instructor of biology, MacMurray College, will discuss "Insects," dealing with the adaptation of particular kinds of insects to particular habitats, such as camouflage. Anyone is welcome to attend this meeting. Following the program there will be a very short meeting of the program committee for a final report on the fall programs.

The following day, May 7, the annual spring bird census will be taken, whatever the weather. Groups may organize themselves to explore any territory which they wish. Two groups have already been formed to leave at 5:30 a.m. and return about 7:00 p.m. If anyone wishes to join either of these groups or wishes leadership, he should contact either William O'Brien, Mrs. Norma Davidsmeyer, or Emma Mae Leonard. The observers should take sack lunches. All groups or individuals are to meet at the home of Emma Mae Leonard, 237 Pine Street, at 8:00 p.m. to make final reports on the findings.

Customer's Car Stolen From Used Car Lot

MT. STERLING — An ironic theft occurred Saturday evening at a used car lot in Mt. Sterling. Virgil Weaver drove to the place of business to look over some cars with the intention of purchase. While he was test-driving one of the vehicles an enterprising thief stole Weaver's car.

The last word was that authorities are still looking for the AWOL automobile.

Mt. Sterling

A marriage license was issued April 30 in Mt. Sterling to Mildred Irene Welty and Donald Lee McClelland, both of Mt. Sterling. The couple plans to wed on May 6th.

Mrs. Minnie Roberts is a patient at Culbertson hospital in Rushville.

George Busby of Mt. Sterling is registered as a patient at Culbertson hospital in Rushville.

Dawdy and daughters Judy and Reva and son Randy and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dawdy, all of Carrollton, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son Stanley of "Patterson."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To Adam West's worries that he might become permanently identified as Batman, Guy Williams remarks: Not necessarily. Williams beat the game. A few years back, it seemed as if he would be stuck forever with the image of Zorro. Yet this season he made a successful return to the home screens as Prof. John Robinson, the man who leads his family through a variety of adventures in CBS' "Lost in Space."

Come to think of it, there is much similarity between Batman and Zorro. Both hark back to the "Scarlet Pimpernel" theme of the young man who poses as a top while being an undercover do-gooder. Whether on horse or batmobile, both made their entrances out of a cave.

And both Batman and Zorro captured the fancy of the nation. Batman has done so while competing in the same time slot as "Lost in Space," although both are made by 20th Century-Fox.

"If that wasn't bad enough," said Williams, "earlier this season, 'Lost in Space' was on at the same time as 'Zorro' in New York City!"

Yet "Lost in Space" has survived to orbit next season, and Williams with it. His escape from the Zorro image was managed despite the odds — and an unfortunate circumstance.

"We made two seasons of the series, then Walt Disney got mad over his treatment at the hands of ABC," the actor recalled. "The suit was in court for two years and meanwhile I wasn't allowed to do anything. I felt like a kept man; all I did was collect my ever-increasing salary."

"During that time, I had no chance to prove I could do anything else besides Zorro. But I was fortunate in being able to make 'The Prince and the Pauper' for Disney. Then I made three pictures in Europe that helped establish me as an actor. By the time I returned from Europe after three years, the Zorro image was pretty well dissipated."

"I don't mind the fact that 'Zorro' is playing all over the world on reruns. Those residual checks can be mighty comforting."

Editorial Comment

Can It Be Solid Ground At Last?

One day we are told that a massive B-52 attack, the heaviest bombing raid since Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II, literally moved a mountain to seal off an important supply route from North Viet Nam into the south.

The next day we are advised that the mission's success was slightly overrated. In fact, most of the bombs missed.

In a way, in this one episode is wrapped up the whole frustrating story of the Viet Nam conflict: An ever more powerful commitment of arms and men, exaggerated claims of the devastation wrought against the enemy, later admissions that he is as potent as ever.

After inordinate expenditures of military might, we always seem to wind up about where we started. Viet Nam is taking on the aspects of the meatgrinder that was Korea, chewing up more and more lives and material with no tangible gains.

There has been one gain, of course, from this country's front-line involvement during the past year. The Communists have not taken over South Viet Nam, even as they did not take over South Korea.

But after years of predictions by experienced military men that the Communists would be defeated in 1960, 1961, 1962 . . . claims that the tide is now definitely in our favor must be greeted with reserved exultation.

We are now being warned, as we were in 1965, that the approaching monsoon season means new, threatening offensives by the Viet Cong. And so it goes.

The monsoons this year, however, may bring something more welcome than rain to dilute the blood spilled on Vietnamese soil. These are the national elections, promised by South Vietnamese Premier Ky, to choose a constituent assembly which will draft a constitution and, it is hoped, form a popular civilian government.

Elections alone, unfortunately, will not end Viet Nam's travail. The same agitation and jockeying for power and influence among the same rival groups—Buddhists, Catholics, the military, other splinter religious and political factions—which almost toppled Ky will likely continue.

But if out of political disunity can come a unified desire to prosecute the struggle against the Communists, the present gloom and uncertainty hovering over Viet Nam will be greatly swept away.

Not all the B-52 raids this country can mount, not all the troops it can send, but a reasonably stable and reasonably popular and reasonably representative government in Saigon is the one convincing factor that will eventually bring North Viet Nam to the negotiating table.

Savior Of The House

The United States House of Representatives is not without its critics in our day. The modern House is a paragon of efficiency, however, when compared with that of 75 years ago. The significant change is highlighted in Barbara Tuchman's book, "The Proud Tower," an account of important happenings before World War I.

As Miss Tuchman points out, Thomas B. Reed of Maine is a man to remember for having revolutionized the House. When he became speaker in 1889, he saved that body from becoming completely unable to function.

Before Reed, opponents of a measure often refused to answer a roll call. Thus the quorum necessary to conduct business would be prevented with a minimum of effort. If unchecked, this practice might have kept the House from passing anything.

Reed's solution was to count all congressmen present for quorum purposes, whether or not they answered their names. To objectors he put an unanswerable poser: "The speaker rules that the member is present. Does he deny it?" After a great-to-do, Reed prevailed. The fight won him the nickname of Czar Reed, but history has transformed that into a compliment. Thanks to him, the House of Representatives was prevented from virtually hamstringing its capacity to act.

Reed was highly scrupulous as well as brilliant. He lost the Republican presidential nomination in 1896 because he would not promise Cabinet posts to his followers. When the McKinley administration annexed the Philippines, he regarded this as a deplorable breach of our national tradition. Since he could not stop it, he resigned from Congress to practice law. It was a heavy loss to public life.

Dear Ann:

Planning Early to Share Estate

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a man in my late 60's and the doctors have told me I don't have a great deal of time left. I am not feeling sorry for myself. I've lived a full life and have enjoyed most of it. The problem is two of my three children. They are already fighting over my money. I've always had a good relationship with my youngest son and his wife. This son has handled my finances for the past ten years and I have complete confidence in him. I have given him and his wife money for anniversaries and birthdays because they have been wonderful to me. The other children have not been so wonderful and I have not done the same for them.

Yesterday the two older boys and their wives came to tell me that I should stop giving away THEIR money. According to them, any money I have belongs to the estate—and they plan to share in it.

When I told them I wasn't dead yet my daughter-in-law piped up, "It won't be long now."

Please tell me if I have a right to give away my money as I please, or if it's considered part of the estate because I am old and ill. —OLD TIMER

Dear Old Timer: So long as you are mentally competent you can give your money to whomever you please. I urge you to see a lawyer at once, make a will, and leave nothing to chance. It would be a shame if that lippy daughter-in-law were not dealt with according to your wishes.

Dear Ann Landers: Please re-word my letter and make it printable. I'm not much of a writer but I need help badly. Our 16-year-old daughter has some awfully cute girl friends. They sometimes spend the night at our home which is fine with me. I've pleased our daughter has such fine friends. The problem is my husband. He just can't keep his hands off the young girls. I have seen him pull them on his lap and beg for hugs and kisses. The poor things don't know what to do or say.

On two occasions I spoke to my husband (privately, of course) and he tore into me like a wildcat. He insists that I am evil-minded and jealous and that he is just being fatherly.

I asked him how HE would like it if the fathers of these girls pawed HIS daughter. He said I was crazy and that I ought to see a doctor. If you think my husband is right please say so. If you think I am right I'd appreciate your support. —N. M.

Dear N. M.: You are right. If that 8-handed loathario thinks he's being fatherly, suggest that he talk to a physician who has some good psychiatric orientation. He may learn a thing or two.

Confidential to Still In Love With Him: Keep quiet. What you have in mind is a diabolical scheme that will not diminish the man one iota. It will make you look like an envious, vicious loser who is seeking revenge. And you will, of course, earn his everlasting ill will.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GOP Gains in the Senate, If Any, Likely to Be Small

By BRUCE BISSOT

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A look at the Republican party's 1966 U.S. Senate prospects reveals the really painful aspects of its minority status. The GOP will be lucky to pick up more than a seat or two.

Of the 35 seats at stake this year, 21 are Democratic today. But of that list, 10 are in Old South states and perhaps no more than one or two of those can be rated as seriously vulnerable.

Whatever the Viet Nam war issue may or may not do for the Republicans in their quest for a flock of House seats, it appears unlikely to produce heavy Senate benefits.

Running the national map, you find quickly that the GOP's brightest hopes are for taking Democratic seats in New Hampshire, Illinois and Oregon. New Hampshire Republicans will not settle on a nominee until their September primary, but Democratic Sen. Thomas McIntyre is considered a good target.

Though his fight is admittedly uphill, Charles Percy of Illinois is given a good chance to beat the vulnerable Sen. Paul Douglas, seeking his fourth term.

Most promising of all is Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, contending for the seat of retiring Sen. Maurice Neuberger. Democrats privately judge him nearly unbeatable.

Beyond these three races, Republican hopes seem a good deal dimmer. Some party men talk airily of capturing seats in Mississippi, Georgia and Virginia, but the prospect is not very real. The best chance is conceded to Rep. Prentiss Walker in his bid against Mississippi's Sen. James Eastland.

The Virginia outlook is handicapped by an absence of good candidates to run against the two incumbents, Sens. Harry Byrd Jr. and A. Willis Robertson, if they survive the primary. In Georgia, Gov. Carl Sanders' decision not to oppose but to support Sen. Richard Russell helps the latter materially in a possible fight with GOP Rep. Howard Callaway.

Michigan's seat ought to be a ripe plum for the Republicans, but today few give the likely GOP nominee, Rep. Robert Griffin, much chance against either of the two Democratic contenders, G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit.

Extreme optimists would also include Democratic seats in Alabama (Sparkman), Tennessee (Bass), Oklahoma (Harris), Minnesota (Mondale) and Montana (Metcalfe) as possible GOP pickups. A canvass of those situations suggests the hope is misplaced.

Even if the Republicans achieve the unlikely and seize three southern seats, plus berths in New Hampshire, Illinois and Oregon, that total gain of six could be reduced by loss of some seats presently held by the GOP.

Most open to assault is Sen. John Tower of Texas. His prayer has to be that Democratic liberals will work against the party establishment as they did when he squeaked through in 1961.

Other vulnerable Republican seats are those in Nebraska and Wyoming. Nebraska's Sen. Carl Curtis has to face the highly popular Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison. Wyoming's seat is up for grabs, vacated by retiring Sen. Milward Simpson. Even the Saltonstall seat in Massachusetts may not be quite the sure thing many forecasters have had it. The GOP choice, Attorney General Edward Brooke, is an immensely popular, attractive figure, holding the highest elective office occupied by any Negro in U.S. history. But he has never had a real fight for office, and he may get a terrific scrap if Mayor John Collins of Boston is his opponent.

COMMUNICATION

Dear Editor:

I hope you will print our letter, as it is the only way we have of reaching the many people concerned.

An open letter to the people of Jacksonville:

On March 11, 1966 our parents were admitted to Holy Cross hospital in Jacksonville, victims of a two car accident. Neither was expected to live, but two wonderful doctors and a host of wonderful nurses went to work patching cuts and bruises and setting broken bones.

Both Mom and Dad pulled through and Dad has been released from the hospital.

We the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Golden wish to thank these doctors and nurses and a large number of nurse aides for their efforts.

We also want to thank the wonderful people of Jacksonville for their friendliness at a time when we needed friends.

There was a lovely little motel owner in Alexander who made arrangements for nine all at once. Another motel owner who fixed us up with a very nice apartment - like room so we could stay in Jacksonville.

A waitress, who opened a locked door for four hungry people although she was catering a party.

The nice man from the Dodge Dealer who drove us out to see the wrecked car, then took us back to the hospital.

There are many more, too numerous to mention but all deserving mention.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty years of bafflement are beginning to show in impatience, criticism, discontent.

There were only six maddening years of dealing with Hitler from the time he took power in 1933 until he began the war in 1939. But with communism there has been prolonged frustration.

First, there were the postwar years of dealing with Russia's Stalin, an impossible task and now for 16 years, or ever since they butted into the Korean war, the even more exasperating ordeal of trying to deal with the Red Chinese.

This is the root of the dissatisfactions being expressed in Congress over the grubby, grueling war in Viet Nam, the fear the Chinese may come in, and the almost total absence of any relations with them except hostility.

If those dissatisfactions could be reduced to a simple sentence it would be this: surely, there must be some kind of answer.

This is a natural belief for any American rendered edgy by two decades of deadlocked suspense, particularly if he persists in believing there must be some solution more comforting than the present policy of watchful waiting.

But the position of the Johnson administration and the State Department, which have the responsibility for conducting foreign affairs and must take the blame for any disasters, is simply this: no answer is in sight.

The proposals made Tuesday by two Democratic senators, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and George McGovern of South Dakota, were new only in detail but not in kind of intent.

They suggested a blue-ribbon commission of distinguished Americans be created to look at U.S.-China policy.

The proposals got a cool reception at the State Department where Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said China isn't seriously interested in improving relations with this country.

He has said the Chinese Reds continue to display "militancy, bitterness, hatred" and that U.S. officials have to deal with the "situation as we find it."

The administration position is that it is willing to have better relations but until the Chinese show they want that, too, U.S. policy must stand firm. Put another way, it means:

The United States will help nations resist Chinese aggressions and will continue to oppose membership for the Red Chinese in the United Nations. In short, nothing has changed in 16 years.

Possibly continued demands for more flexible efforts by the administration to deal with the Chinese will force some change in administration policy, but that looks doubtful at the moment.

The American future may be permanently affected by its relations with Red China in the next 20 years, good or bad, but this or any other administration must answer for the outcome, not the critics.

Kennedy and McGovern were just the latest expressing discontent and hoping for solutions. The Johnson administration has been under a critical barrage. So far it hasn't budged.

Urban renewal is a historic problem. More than two millennia ago, the philosopher Plato grumbled that his contemporaries had filled Athens with "harbors and docks and buildings and all that, and . . . have left no room for reason or justice."

Ornithologists say more birds have flown from America to Europe than in the reverse direction because of prevailing winds.

Fact

The fiery glow that airline passengers often see around the edges of the propellers and along the tips of the wings is called St. Elmo's fire, named after the patron saint of Mediterranean sailors. The name is an Italian corruption of St. Erasmus. The glow is what accompanies discharges of atmospheric electricity along the extremities of pointed objects, including church steeples and the masts of ships during stormy weather.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

New Treatments Noted

For Poisonous Snake Bite

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bites of poisonous snakes continue to occur but the methods recommended for their treatment have been changing in recent years. It is now believed that cutting the skin and sucking out the venom is an emergency measure that should be used only when the bite is known to have come from a rattlesnake or water moccasin that is longer than 3 1/2 feet or when the bite is near the heart (face, neck or trunk).

In such a case, waste no time—if a knife is not handy use a sharp piece of tin or broken glass to cut the skin, but expose it to a flame first to reduce the chances of infection.

One of the dangers of using this type of emergency treatment is absorption of venom through a small cut or inflamed portion of the lips, gums or inner surface of the mouth.

This can be prevented if you use a suction cup supplied with the standard snake bite first aid kit or use a thin sheet of rubber between your mouth and the snake bite. Another disadvantage of the cut-and-suck treatment is that in one's haste and excitement one may make a painful wound which later becomes infected, only to learn that the snake was nonpoisonous.

If it is possible to get to a hospital within two hours and the bite is on the arm or leg the best course is to apply a tourniquet several inches above the bite. Care must be taken to cut off only the flow of venous blood to the heart—not the flow of arterial blood to the extremity. Every 10 to 15 minutes the tourniquet should be released for one or two minutes. If the arm or leg starts to swell, keep moving the tourniquet upward just ahead of the swelling.

In the hospital antivenin, antibiotics and tetanus toxoid or antitoxin will be available. It is important to know what kind of snake bite you are dealing with because these antivenins are effective against a single species. The antibiotics and tetanus antivenins are given because snake bites are notorious for being contaminated with harmful bacteria.

Dr. W. E. Lockhart of Alpine, Tex., is a strong advocate of packing snake-bitten extremities in fresh-water ice and keeping them so packed for six days to relieve pain. This is important because it is dangerous to give morphine to victims of snake bite. The rest of the body is kept warm with an electric blanket. This treatment is effective only if a tourniquet has been applied for less than an hour and should not be used in persons with Raynaud's disease and other circulatory disorders.

We, the Women Wishful Thinking

Just don't count on it—That your life will be less hectic next month or next year than it is right now.

That television commercials have reached an all time low. That if skirts go any higher women will rebel instead of playing follow the fashion leader.

That the repairman you are waiting around for will actually show up on the day promised—or even telephone to let you know he won't make it.

That the "new and improved" product will be as good as the old.

That all those shoes with high heels and pointed toes that fill your closet will ever be quite right again, no matter how long you save them.

That the warning on cigarette packages that "smoking may be hazardous to your health" will restrain the young from becoming smokers like the unwarned generations before them.

That you can get into a container that says "press here to open" without getting out the tool box.

That the word "instant" on a food package means ready that soon.

That today's status symbol will be tomorrow's.

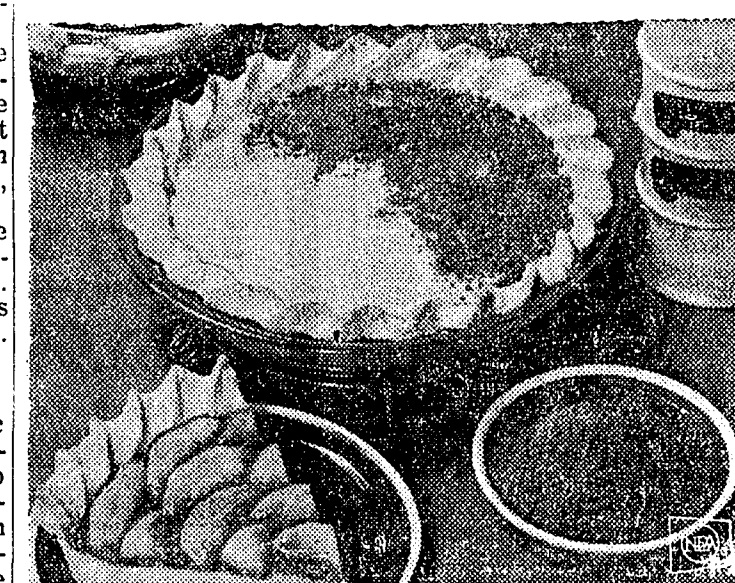

That any clean-up job, from washing windows to waxing floors, is going to be as easy as it looks on a television commercial.

That the pounds you lose on a crash diet will stay lost.

That if you are secretive about your age others will guess you to be younger than you are. It may be so—but don't count on it.

Apple Custard Pie Without Baking

APPLE CUSTARD PIE doesn't require baking.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is one more convenience food to simplify springtime in the kitchen — a new packaged egg custard mix.

The mix is blended with milk and cooked on top of the range in as little as six minutes. For pies, the prepared mix is cooled slightly and then poured into a baked crust, ready-to-eat as soon as it sets.

Apple Custard Pie

1 package (2 1/2 oz.) egg custard mix

1 1/2 cups milk

1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

2 cups thin apple slices

1-3 cup sugar

1 tablespoon water

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

3 tablespoons ginger snap crumbs

Combine custard mix and milk in saucepan. Bring quickly to a boil, stirring constantly.

A mother-daughter banquet will be served Thursday evening by a committee of the Baptist Men's Fellowship.

To Report Wheat Acreage

Scott County ASC chairman Nimrod Funk reports that all producers must report their acreage at the county office for program compliance. All producers have received a card requesting this information. Even though a producer has had a pre-measurement, it is necessary for a certificate to be made.

Certification should be made by May 10. If producer's certification shows an excess acreage of wheat, he must destroy the excess and recertify not later than May 25, 1966.

Mr. Funk urged all producers who are signed in the 1966 Wheat Program to make certification as soon as possible and avoid incurring a penalty on program payments.

Franklin Davis, Former Local Resident, Dies

Franklin Donald Davis, 32, a former Jacksonville resident, was found dead in a garage at his home in Decatur at 7 a.m. Tuesday. Macon County officials said death appeared to have been caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Davis, employed by Il-Mo Welding Products company, was transferred from Jacksonville to Decatur last year.

He was born in Cass County May 11, 1933; son of Glen and Verna Shelton Davis.

He leaves his parents, his wife, Barbara Smith Davis; a son Glenn and a daughter, Deborah, both at home; two sisters, Glenda, wife of Don Hazelrigg of Jacksonville and Sandra, wife of Jim Wease, Virginia; his maternal grandparents and paternal grandmother.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Massie Funeral Home, Virginia, with Reverend Rusby Slinkard officiating. Burial will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

The family will meet friends at the funeral home from 5-9 p.m. Wednesday. Members of Jacksonville Lodge 570, A.F. and A.M. will conduct Masonic rites at the funeral home at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Brown County Firm Bids On School Project

BEARDSTOWN — Logsdon Brothers of Mt. Sterling have submitted a low bid of $29,227 to improve locker room facilities at the old gymnasium at the high school.

The Beatty Hardware company of Beardstown, the other bidder, submitted a $31,259 figure.

Contracts will be awarded May 19 after Horn Associates of Quincy, the board's architects, studies the bids.

It is expected the work will cost approximately $33,000 when completed and will double locker room and shower space in the old gym.

Members of the board of education hope the work can be completed by next fall.

Riddough Named

Jerry Riddough, who is in charge of construction of the Oscar Mayer plant here, has been chosen as a member of the Citizen's Advisory committee for Beardstown schools.

He replaces Robert Huss, who has just been elected a member of the school board.

In Germany

Walter E. Mason

An Arzenville man, Pfc. Walter E. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mason, left April 23 for Army duty in Germany after spending a 30 day leave with relatives and friends.

He entered the service May 20, 1965 and completed his basic training and personnel administration school at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. For the past seven months Pfc. Mason has worked in the trainee management and assignment division at Ft. Leonard Wood, where he and Mrs. Mason made their home.

Mrs. Mason, the former Bernidean Zulauf, is presently living at home but hopes to join her husband in the near future.

'Something Wonderful'

View Young Pupils' Art On Attack Carrier

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Christmas gift of Mary K. Burns' art class to American fighting men in Viet Nam has become a warmly appreciated cruising art show in the South China Sea.

The 24 crayon drawings by Miss Burns' second grade pupils at Oak Ridge School are on display in the library of the attack carrier USS Hancock.

In a letter, Lt. Cmdr. David W. Plank, the carrier's chaplain, reported how the work of the Oak Ridge youngsters finally, on April 6, reached the ship which is engaged in air strikes against the Viet Cong.

"Five days ago something wonderful happened. A battered and torn pink paper-wrapped package arrived in my office. 'It was lying on the floor, in fact, when I discovered it,' Plank wrote to Robert W. Luther, Oak Ridge principal.

"The package was addressed to the U.S. Navy, Viet Nam.

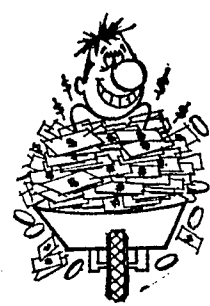

"For 70 days, mind you, these 24 grease-crayon drawings and 19 letters from the boys and girls... had been bounced around Viet Nam—and no one wanted them.

"All they wanted was a home. 'They have one now, on the walls of our ships' library,' Chaplain Plank invited the Hancock's men to become art critics. They voted as judges in a contest awarding prizes to the pupils whose crayon pictures were picked as the best.

"I am impressed with the symbolism involved in the pictures," Plank said. "It is different from hearing of the action of the Vietnam Day Committee demonstrations in Berkeley and draft card burning."

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription. Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatene. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections. The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms.

BPW Gals At State Convention

Miss Mildred Cruse, president; Mrs. Katherine Ray, treasurer; Mrs. Alvah-lee McCarthy, incoming president, and Mrs. Rena Lantz, past president of Jacksonville Federation of BPW Clubs.

The above delegates from the local Club attended sessions of the State meeting held at the Pere Marquette Hotel April 21-24.

One of the highlights of the weekend was the speech at Saturday night's banquet by John Cameron Swayze entitled "A Wonderful World." Outstanding music was by the Wesley Handbell Choir of First Methodist Church, Peoria. Another musical treat was the program presented at Friday night's dinner by the Le-Tourneau-Westinghouse Chorus.

Miss Sarah Jane Cunningham, president - elect of the National Federation of BPW clubs, Inc., presented a certificate to Mildred Cruse for the Jacksonville Club for fulfilling program goals thus attaining status in the Criteria Club for the year 1965-1966.

Commendation was given to local and other clubs which made it possible for the National Federation to meet its high standards set for all Business and Professional Women's Clubs in the United States and its territories.

Business sessions were conducted by Miss Mildred Menard, Kankakee, State president. Host Clubs were from District 6 of the State Federation. Mrs. Laila Henry of Kewanee was the general chairman for the Convention.

EBENEZER WSCS ELECTS OFFICERS

The WSCS of the Ebenezer Methodist church met Thursday, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Donald Crabtree with Miss Roby Deweese as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Everett Hymes, called the meeting to order with a prayer.

Mrs. Robert Houston presented the lesson and devotions. Guests present were Mrs. Carl James, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Elmer Crabtree, Miss Frances Moy, and several children.

The nominating committee Mrs. Donald Crabtree, Mrs. Charles Brainer, and Mrs. Charles Brainer, presented the following slate of officers which were elected and will be installed at the May meeting: president, Mrs. Everett Hymes; vice president, Mrs. Paul Jones; recording secretary, Mrs. Ira Story; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Edward Hymes; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Houston.

Secretaries of work are Mrs. Otis Mason, Mrs. John Hadden, Mrs. F. J. Blackburn, Mrs. Charles Brainer, Mrs. Sherwood Eddy and Mrs. W. G. Hadden, Mrs. Robert Houston, Mrs. Farrell Hansmeier, Mrs. Charles Reid, and Mrs. Donald Crabtree. Cards and flowers committee, Mrs. Lloyd Moss, nominating committee, Mrs. Farrell Hansmeier, Mrs. Charles Brainer, Mrs. Paula Reid.

Thank offering will be held at the church May 15 at the 11 a'clock service. The president reported on the district meeting held at Rushville. The spiritual message was given by Mrs. Sherwood Eddy.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

PLANTED SECOND STORY

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP) — Tree experts are blaming a bird because a tree is growing in a tree here.

A cedar sapling about two feet tall has sprouted in dirt collected in a fork of limbs on a large elm tree. The cedar's base is about six feet off the ground.

A nurseryman said a bird probably dropped the cedar seed in the elm fork.

Reports indicate that the California condor is gradually becoming extinct. Only 40 now survive, compared with 60 in 1950.

| Opening lead—♦ Q | | | |

"Here is a hand that really illustrates both bidding and play," said Jim, and the following dialog ensued.
Oswald: "South has a normal but strong opening no-trump. North's two club response asks South to show a four-card major. North might have jumped directly to four hearts but it was easy for South to go to game over three hearts."
Jim: "South has to be careful and duck the diamond lead. If he wins the first trick, East will eventually get in with the king and lead a spade. In that case the combination of both spade honors and the king of hearts in the West hand will cost South his contract."

Oswald: "Those three cards are surely misplaced but correct technique saves South's bacon for him. He ducks the first diamond and wins the second. Then he enters dummy with the ace of clubs to try a trump finesse but must be careful to lead his seven of clubs, not his three spot. The trump finesse loses and West returns a trump. South draws a third round of trumps and runs off his clubs. He is able to win the fourth club in dummy because he has retained his three spot."
Jim: "He leads a spade and can spread his hand. At this point it makes no difference where the king and queen of spades are. They are in back of the ace. South ducks the spade to West and he must either lead back a spade or give South a ruff and discard."
Oswald: "Had North played the hand at four hearts a spade lead would have led to his defeat. The hand was unbeatable when played by South."

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♣ 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠
3 ♣ 3 ♠ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ K 10 8 ♥ A 8 7 6 ♦ J 9 5 4 ♣ 3 2
What do you do?
A—Pass. Your partner is probably just competing here. In any event the fact that West has bid to the three level by himself indicates that suits will break badly for your partner and you only have three trumps for him.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three spades over three clubs your partner doubles. East bids three hearts. What do you do now?

China Briefly Becomes A Maritime Power

At the beginning of the Ming Dynasty (1368) China and the West had been on more or less the same level of development. . . . At the end of the dynasty, in 1644, Europe was already in possession of modern science and equipment, whereas China was still in the Middle Ages.

—Rene Grousset

During the reign of the third Ming emperor, known as Yung Lo, something unprecedented in China's history occurred. The Chinese turned to seafaring exploits.

Under the command of Cheng Ho, "the Chinese Columbus," fleets of great junks—some over 500 feet long, with watertight compartments and carrying 1,000 men—sailed the South Seas and as far west as Africa.

But this epoch was short-lived. The voyages were carried out more for reasons of prestige than for exploration or trade. The self-sufficient, self-centered Chinese soon reverted to their traditional isolationism, and we can only speculate on what turn history might have taken had they and not the Portuguese found a route around the tip of Africa.

Under Yung Lo, also, the Chinese monarchy became more and more absolutistic and, behind the walls of the "Forbidden City" which the Ming erected in Peking, more and more remote from the life of the common people.

Such unheard-of practices as the public flogging of officials were instituted. Creative endeavor was restricted merely to refining the ideas and methods originated in former times.

The Ming could no more escape the "cycle of dynasty"—moving from strong, vigorous rule at the beginning to corruption and ineffectiveness at the end—than could any previous dynasty. Famine touched off peasant rebellions in the 17th century and rebel armies began ravaging the countryside—classic signs that the dynasty was losing heaven's favor.

Out of the north came a new menace to take advantage of this situation—the Manchus, whose tribal ancestors the Chinese had fought many times in previous centuries. Aided by disaffected Chinese generals, the Manchus captured Peking in 1644 and for the second time, foreigners ruled China.

Another new force had also begun to make itself felt during the Ming. In 1517, the first Portuguese seeking trade arrived in Canton.

By land, a people called the Russians were pressing into northern Manchuria. Only eight years after they seized the Dragon Throne, the Manchus faced armed conflict with these white-faced invaders of their own homeland.

Says Only U.S. Holds Chaotic, Despairing S. Viet Nam Together

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—"There is no Viet Nam south of the 17th Parallel," said the highly placed Western diplomat. "There is only chaos, despair and unending struggle."

The diplomat's grim appraisal of the situation in South Viet Nam clashed with the official U.S. line but coincided with the views of many other diplomats and observers.

"South Viet Nam today is not a country," he said. "It is a group of feuding, religious groups, of defiant warlords, of generals refusing to obey the orders of Saigon, of entire areas under Communist control, of political parties and groupings none of which can exercise a determining influence.

"Only the presence of Americans holds it together."

"The United States must remain here. How and for how long, I don't know. But its departure from here would mean an immediate disaster."

American planners are hopeful that South Viet Nam can be forged politically in elections promised this summer. Most other diplomats and observers believe that elections are not possible in this nation at war—and that a valid vote could not result.

The country has more than 70 political parties, none of them large enough to take a determined lead.

The Buddhists, often described as one of the strongest political forces, are divided into three main quarreling factions.

The Hoa Hoa and Cao Dai religious sects also demand influence, but they are limited to two small regions of the country without impact on the rest. A simmering revolt of the Montagnard tribesmen openly defies the central government.

The Catholics, about 15 percent of Viet Nam's 15 million people, are ready to defend their rights.

PREFAB SPIRES

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—In the past a town might have to wait weeks or even years for a new spire to be erected atop its church.

Today, new engineering techniques and prefabricated metals help hold spire erection time down to just a few hours, says the Overly Manufacturing Company.

The company puts a spire together at its factory, then disassembles it for shipment to the site. There a crew supervises assembly and erection. Even a 50-foot Gothic spire goes up in under three hours.

Move Through Steamy Jungle Seeking Foe

EDITOR'S NOTE — D-Day, where these men of 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Regiment—the famed "Wolfhounds" of Korea—had first tangled with the Viet Cong in hanking out their 2nd Brigade, 25th Division base camp.

By JOHN NANCE
CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP)—The men groped in the darkness as the clicks and clanks of pistol belts, helmets and rifles mixed with hoarse whispers of "Let's go, let's go."

Pfc. Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., already was set. He had taken the last watch of the night atop the bunker and was wide awake now at 5:45 this Friday morning.

Richie, 22, was the machine gunner for B Company. His team would be in the first wave of this morning's attack.

They were going after the Viet Cong in a stronghold the enemy had held for decades. Then a swarm of dots appeared far off in the sky—the helicopters were coming to take them to the attack point.

The helicopters landed and their vibrating shells filled quickly. One by one in rotation they took off—sailing low for a few hundred yards, then soaring upward.

Below could be seen Cu Chi, the town near the camp and some 20 miles northwest of Saigon. Farther west were the jungles and rubber plantation where these men of 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Regiment—the famed "Wolfhounds" of Korea—had first tangled with the Viet Cong in hanking out their 2nd Brigade, 25th Division base camp.

The fleet of choppers hummed for 15 minutes over villages and green fields, dense jungles and dry brown paddies. Then, suddenly, they dropped.

Soldiers leaped and tumbled out—they had been instructed the helicopters would be on the ground just four seconds.

Richie's team hit the paddy, sprawled flat and waited for the choppers to soar off. Hunched over, they charged in short, chopping steps to the edge of the clearing.

Platoon by platoon the GIs disappeared into the jungle. Bursts of firing erupted as the lead element met resistance. Enemy bullets cracked and whined through the paddy where Richie's platoon waited to move up. Every man plunged to the dew-damp ground.

It was 9 a.m. and Richie's unit was called up, through jungles so thick Richie could not see the man two yards in front of him.

The jungle opened into a clearing where a thatched roof hut was blazing. For months the inhabitants of the area had been told to get out because this was Viet Cong territory and would come under attack. Any one found there would be presumed a Communist until proven otherwise.

The men had been ordered, however, not to fire at anyone or any place until they had received fire.

Richie's platoon stayed in reserve as the rest of the company advanced warily across a long, wide rice paddy to take positions in a dry, overgrown canal.

Capt. Malcolm Howard, 26, of Deep Run, N.C., B Company commander, consulted maps and called his radiomen around him. They were facing the major objective of the day—Xom Moi, the Viet Cong stronghold that had twice in recent months thrust back American attempts to sweep through.

Now they waited for the brigade's armored units—the 1st Battalion of the 5th Mechanized Infantry and the 3rd Platoon of the 4th Cavalry—to smash into Xom Moi with tanks and armored personnel carriers.

The noon sun bore down as they waited. Richie and his machine gun crew sprawled in the shade of a tree.

There had been just one casualty in the battalion, and that a slight one from friendly grenade fragments.

Finally the call came to move up. The 3rd Platoon, with Richie, spread out and crossed a flat paddy field. Stacks of straw blazed from fires set by a forward element.

The armored units had crashed through and any Viet Cong or their families who had not evacuated before did so then. Soldiers tossed grenades into holes and tunnels. No captives were taken, no casualties were suffered, the enemy was nowhere to be found.

B Company started back home through the heat and jungle. A mile from home, the men dropped on the dusty ground with sighs and means of weariness.

Richie, his machine gun to one side, stretched on the ground, silent and soaked with sweat. His red hair was matted and his freckles were nearly hidden by grime and dust.

Senators Blast Crimsons, 13-2

SPRINGFIELD — Springfield High School pounded three JHS hurlers for 12 hits in romping to a six-inning baseball victory over the Crimsons, here Tuesday afternoon. The sixth inning was played by agreement despite the ten-run ruling.

The Crimsons were never in the game after Springfield exploded for seven runs in the third inning. With the eventual winners scoring in each inning, JHS did not get a hit off starter Dave Robisch until the fourth inning.

JHS got only one base runner in the first three innings, on an error. Ken Miller and Rich Coble singled in the fourth but the Crimsons failed to score.

The only two Jacksonville runs came in the fifth. Pinch hitter Charley Robson and Mike Tendick drew walks with one out. Miller also drew a free pass, with Robin Manker's single driving in both runs.

The loss drops JHS to 9-4 on the campaign.

JHS Bests Quincy In Dual, 69½-53½

QUINCY — Eight first places plus slightly more depth carried the JHS track squad to an impressive 69½-53½ dual meet victory over Quincy High school, here Tuesday afternoon. Hannibal, Mo. High was not in the meet as originally scheduled.

The Crimsons posted eight firsts to Quincy's seven, only five seconds to the Blue Devils' six, but notched 11 thirds to only two by the losers. Quincy had no discus men and had to forfeit all three places to JHS.

Quincy's Wolfgang Buechler ran the area's best half mile of the spring, 1:59.0. Jacksonville's Larry Nortrup set a new school record of 12' in the pole vault, finishing second to Quincy's Eliason, who won the event at 12' 3".

The winner freshman sophomore relay team of Benny Richardson, Rod Simonds, Jim Bruner and Gary Stanberry posted the area's best time of 1:38.6, while Quincy's 880-yard varsity relay clipped the event in 1:34.7 and their mile relay outfit had the area's best, 3:39.5.

Other winners for JHS were Steve Tavender in the high hurdles, Jim Bruner in the 100 yard dash, Art McKipe in the broad jump, Steve Simonds in the shot and Ron Coleman in the high jump. Coleman cleared 6'11" without a miss, but missed three times at 6'3", hitting the bar with his trailing knee. Simonds, Mike Matijevich and Roger Patterson tied for first in the forfeited discus event.

Brown County, Central Split

MT. STERLING — Brown County and Central of Camp Point split a pair of Midwest Conference games, here Tuesday afternoon, with the hosts taking the opener 4-0 and the visitors the second, 8-3.

Bob Webber blanked Central on one hit in the opening game. Daggett's fourth-inning single was the only safety off Webber. Webber fanned ten and did not give up a walk in the game.

Central had two four-run innings in the second game, in the first and in the sixth, aided by five Brown county errors.

Greene Co. Track Title To Hawks

CARROLLTON — Carrollton won 13 firsts out of the 16 events and won its second straight Greene county track and field meet, here Tuesday evening. Four meet records were broken.

The winning Hawks had three double winners, Mike Brannan, Eric Bryant and Dan Howard. Greenfield's Greg Koehn was the only other double victor.

Carrollton's John Rolls set a new mile run record of 4:47.25, erasing the old standard of 4:48.9, set by Wagener of Carrollton in 1962. Terry Holterfield of Carrollton ran the two-mile in 10:57.2, bettering his own mark set last season, of 11:08.6.

Koehn hurled the discus 140'2", erasing the previous high of 133'13", established in 1950. Koehn's toss is the best in the area this year. Carrollton's freshman 440-yard relay team of Miller, Byland, Giberson and Berry turned in a timing of 48.28, bettering the old mark of 49.2, set by Carrollton in 1940.

JHS Tennis Team Wins 2 Matches

A split Jacksonville High school tennis team won two dual matches Tuesday afternoon, 7-0 at home against Feitschans and 7-2 against Lanphier in Springfield.

The two matches were necessitated after a conflict in schedules forced the team to be split.

An all-senior group whitewashed Feitschans. Mick Cochran, Tom Ryan, Jeff Coultas, Brain Kelly and Bob Osiek won singles matches, with Cochran-Kelly and Ryan-Osiek taking doubles victories.

At Springfield Dick Herrin, Chip Sutphen, Willy Coultas and Jeff Edlen won singles matches. Sutphen-Cochran, Herrin-George Hardesty and Edlen-Tom Musatto scored doubles triumphs.

Drop Twinbill IC Held To Five Hits In 2 Games

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa — Iowa Wesleyan pitching held Illinois College to only five singles in two games and handed the Blueboys a pair of losses, 8-2 and 9-1, here Tuesday afternoon.

The winners, led by Frank Dexter's perfect day at the plate, led all the way in the opener, scoring in each of the first three innings and adding four in the fifth against two IC hurlers.

The first IC run in the opener came in the third when Tom Rowland, who scored all the Blueboys runs for the day, walked and scored all the way from first on Bob Rittenhouse's single. In the fifth Rowland singled, stole second and scored on Bud Lawrence's single.

Wesleyan counted two home runs among their nine hits, one a lined drive to left that should have been only a single, but the IC outfielders never found the ball.

Wesleyan settled the nightcap in a hurry with four runs in the opening frame. IC came back with one in the second, as Rowland reached first on an error, stole second and came home on Bill Blessman's single.

Gordon Elmore hurled the last two innings in an impressive relief stint, fanning five of the six men he faced.

IC now 2-8 while Iowa Wesleyan increased its mark to 10-2.

Lee Maye Powers Astros To 10-2 Romp Over Cubs

HOUSTON (AP) — Lee Maye hit his third homer in three games and Joe Morgan knocked in three runs with a homer and single as the Houston Astros walloped the Chicago Cubs 10-2 Tuesday night.

Dave Giusti struggled to his third victory in four decisions while Cub starter Bill Hands, 1-2, was the loser, yielding six runs in four innings.

Five of the runs off Hands, however, were unearned as the Cub defense committed four errors behind him.

Morgan led off the first inning with his homer and drove in two more runs with a bases-loaded single in the four-run fourth.

Lolich Blanks Red Sox, 8-0

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers exploded for six runs in the sixth inning and blanked the Boston Red Sox 8-0 Tuesday night behind the five-hit pitching of Mickey Lolich.

Lolich struck out nine while breezing to his third victory in four decisions as the Tigers snapped a three-game losing streak.

Bill Freehan led off the sixth with a double, only the third hit off Boston starter Jose Santiago. Freehan beat the throw to third on Lolich's punt and scored the first run of the game on Dick McAuliffe's single.

After a walk to Jerry Lumpe loaded the bases, one run scored on a force out and Jim Northrup knocked in another with an infield single. Jim Lonborg then replaced Santiago and was clipped for a two-run single by Don Wert. The final run of the inning scored on George Smith's throwing error.

Solons Halt Baltimore's Streak, 3-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators ended Baltimore's 10-game winning streak Tuesday night, beating the Orioles 3-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Phil Ortega and Casey Cox.

Jim French, recalled from Hawaii Monday in a reshuffling of the Senators' catchers, drove in the first run with a fourth-inning single, and Frank Howard blasted a two-run homer in the seventh.

Ortega had a three-hitter for seven innings but had to retire because of a pulled muscle in his right shoulder.

Loser Jim Palmer pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the second inning, but the Senators scored in the fourth on a walk to Don Lock, a wild pitch, an infield out and French's single to left center.

Montreal Moves Within One Game Of Title, 5-1

MONTREAL (AP) — The fired-up Montreal Canadiens whipped in a pair of goals in each of the first two periods against battered goalie Roger Crozier Tuesday night, coasted to a 5-1 victory over Detroit and moved one game short of their second straight Stanley Cup.

The triumph, third straight for the Canadiens, gave them a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series, the first time they have held the edge in the playoff.

Crozier, who suffered a sprained knee and twisted ankle on his left leg early in Sunday's game, was in the nets for the Red Wings.

He hardly had time to get used to being back in action before Montreal had scored.

Claude Provost put the Canadiens ahead with the game just 66 seconds old, beating Crozier from 10 feet out.

John Kerr Picked To Coach Bulls

CHICAGO (AP)—John (Red) Kerr, a veteran of 12 National Basketball Association seasons, signed a three-year contract Tuesday as head coach of the Chicago Bulls.

Al Bianchi, another long-time NBA star and Kerr's roommate for 10 pro seasons, received a three-year contract as assistant coach of the new NBA club.

Kerr, 34, former University of Illinois player, and Bianchi, 33, were among 18 players selected by the Bulls from the nine established NBA teams in a stocking draft at New York last weekend.

Dick Klein, Bull general manager, announced at a news conference that Kerr and Bianchi would be bench coaches.

Kerr and Bianchi were teammates on the Syracuse Nationals and on the Philadelphia 76ers, until Kerr was traded to Baltimore last season.

Sees Solid Squad
The 6-foot-9, 230-pound Kerr, a Chicago native, said he thought the Bulls acquired a solid squad in last weekend's draft in which the new club tapped two players from each NBA club.

However, I know this league and don't think my job will be a bed of roses," said Kerr, who is among the NBA's 10,000-point career scorers.

"It definitely will be a tough job, but between Bianchi, myself, Manager Klein and myself, I think we can revive Chicago interest in pro basketball."

If he had to pick a starting Bull line-up at the moment, Kerr said it would include Bob Boozer and Jim King, acquired from the Los Angeles Lakers; Nate Bowman, from the Cincinnati Royals; Jim Washington, from the St. Louis Hawks; and Jerry Sloan, from the Baltimore Bullets.

Get Last Pick
Under terms of getting their NBA franchise and the 18 players at a $1.6-million outlay, the Bulls get the last opening-round draft pick in the league's college player draft May 11.

However, Klein said the Bulls expected little or no help from the college draft.

"We know the top names will be gone by the time we pick and we may select only on the first four rounds," Klein said. "It's safe to say whatever collegians we choose probably won't make our eventual playing squad."

The Bulls can suit up 15 players until Jan. 1, and then 12 for home and road games thereafter.

Kerr emphasized that 10 of the Bulls picked from other NBA clubs were original No. 1 college draft choices.

Clan Posts 10-1 Win Over Lincoln

LINCOLN — MacMurray exploded for five runs in the sixth inning to break a scoreless deadlock, and went on to post a lopsided 10-1 baseball triumph over Lincoln Junior College, here Tuesday afternoon.

Dave Berst hurled a five-hitter for the winning Highlanders, striking out eight batters and walking none. All five hits off the right hander, now 3-3, were singles. The lone run came on two of Mac's five errors and a wild pitch.

After being held scoreless the first six innings, the Clansmen broke loose in the sixth. Fred Lewis walked and Rich Nichols drew a walk to start the rally. Bob Gay's single loaded the bases before Bob Alexander and John Nesheim were hit by pitches to force in a pair of runs. John Justis singled in two more and the final tally scored on a fielder's choice.

A single run came in the seventh when Nichols was hit by a pitch and Gay and Nesheim singled.

The Highlanders iced the contest with four in the eighth. Mike Bertolotte walked and Berst singled to start the outburst. Two straight errors let the first tally score before Alexander doubled in two runs.

MacMurray is now 34-7 on the season.

Versalles HR Lifts Minnesota Past Chisox, 4-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Zoilo Versalles' three-run homer and tight pitching by Camilo Pascual gave the Minnesota Twins a 4-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

Versalles connected in the third inning following a double by Bernie Allen and Pascual's single. The three-run shot erased a 2-1 Chicago lead that the White Sox had gained on singles by Tommie Agee and Don Buford and Pete Ward's double in the first inning.

After Ward's hit, Pascual set down 18 consecutive batters and finished with a four-hitter, allowing just one hit after the opening inning.

Tony Oliva had given the Twins the early lead with a bases-empty homer in the first inning.

Tiant Pitches Third Shutout, Whips Yanks 1-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Tiant pitched his third shutout in three starts Tuesday night, limiting New York to four hits as the Cleveland Indians edged the Yankees 1-0 on Joe Azcue's run-scoring single in the seventh inning.

Tiant, who blanked Boston and Kansas City in his other two appearances, allowed only one Yankee to reach third in leading the Indians to their 12th victory in 13 games this season.

Tiant opened the fourth inning with a single and moved to third on two ground outs, but Tiant fanned Joe Pepitone for the final out.

Al Downing checked the Indians on three hits until the seventh, when Fred Whitfield led off with a single, raced to third on Larry Brown's third single and scored the only run as Azcue singled to left.

Jackson And Cards Down New York, 5-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ex-Met Al Jackson pitched four innings of hitless relief against his former teammates as the St. Louis Cardinals downed New York 5-2 Tuesday night.

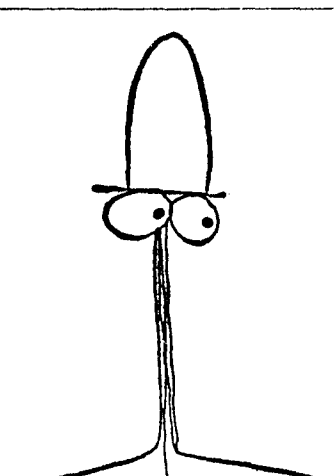

Jackson, who got credit for his first victory, came on in the sixth and retired 12 straight batters, striking out four.

The Cards jumped in front with three runs against New York starter Tug McGraw in the fourth inning. They loaded the bases on three singles and scored their first run on a sacrifice fly by starter Ray Washburn before Lou Brock doubled in two more.

New York knocked out Washburn and narrowed the St. Louis lead to a single run with three singles and three walks producing two runs in the fifth. New York 000 020 000-2 6 2

'Total Victory' Is Cry In Red-Held North Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Anti-like crowds work at night under rigid discipline, shops are empty, food is rationed and "total victory" is the password.

This image of life in Communist North Viet Nam is provided by Western, neutral and Communist sources.

The appraisals vary, but all agree that the 17 million North Vietnamese live in a grip of an ironclad Communist apparatus. Those who protest are shot. Virtually every man and woman is enrolled in a vast, painstaking war effort against American-backed South Viet Nam.

An estimated 200,000 laborers work every night to repair damage of American bombing raids. Their relentless effort has kept men and supplies flowing to the jungle war in the South, where entire regiments of North Vietnamese regulars back the Viet Cong.

The civilian population of the North reportedly has suffered comparatively little from American raids, directed mainly against selected strategic targets.

Nevertheless, the capital of Hanoi lives in a state of permanent alert against a possible air attack.

"They have turned day into night and night into day," one report from the French mission in Hanoi said.

American intelligence sources are most specific — they say all life in Hanoi stops between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., when the regime estimates the chances for a raid are the greatest.

Evacuate Children
 French reports say most children have been evacuated from the Hanoi metropolitan area in the countryside, most classes in schools are held at night.

The four-man French mission in the Communist capital is forbidden to leave the city.

A fantastic program of austerity has been launched to survive and continue the war. Most reports speak of the determination of the Ho Chi Minh regime to score "total victory."

Polish members of the International Control Commission, established by the 1954 Geneva agreement which carved up Indochina, report that shops in Hanoi are empty, cars are few "but the people are not hungry."

"Everybody has a bowl of rice there," one Polish official who recently visited Hanoi said. "There are no beggars in the streets — like in Saigon."

American experts agree with this opinion. They say life has been leveled by Communist drabness, with everybody subjected to the same shortages, the same discipline of bare survival.

Says U.S. Wasn't Ready For Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigating senator said Tuesday night that Army equipment and manpower problems might have put the United States "in grave difficulty" had the war in Viet Nam exploded into sustained, large-scale ground combat.

"I am convinced that time has worked for us and been a saving factor in this matter," said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Preparedness Investigating subcommittee.

Some Still Not Ready

Stennis' comments prefaced a subcommittee report which declared that four Army divisions now stationed in the United States are not ready for combat.

These divisions are the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash.; the 5th Infantry at Ft. Carson, Colo.; and the 1st and 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Subcommittee investigators recently inspected the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and two top Army generals were called before the senators Tuesday for questioning about the combat readiness and equipment of the two divisions.

The session with Gen. Harold K. Johnson, chief of staff, and Gen. Paul L. Freeman Jr., head of the Continental Army Command, was behind closed doors.

Stennis said the subcommittee is concerned about "our ability to support Viet Nam and maintain an adequate strategic reserve at the same time."

A brigade of the 101st Airborne is now in Viet Nam and most of the 82nd Airborne was sent to the Dominican Republic during the crisis there. Some 6,000 are still on duty there.

Classified
 The report on the 4th and 5th doctrine among the primitive peasants but agree the regime is effective.

The French and British feel the doctrine has forged North Viet Nam into a unified nation — against an often divided South Viet Nam.

Chinese Communist influence is believed to be stronger there than that of the Russians. One American report estimated Chinese aid at 60 per cent of all foreign aid received by North Viet Nam.

There is deep distrust of East European Communist nations, North Vietnamese leaders, steeped in Chinese-type communism, claim that European Communists "have abandoned the revolution."

Against this background there are reports here of the growing resentment by South Viet Nam Viet Cong guerrillas over the North's control of their war.

Significantly, no separate revolutionary government in exile has been set up for South Viet Nam. The aim seems to be clear — Ho Chi Minh wants one united Communist country.

Waters Infant Dies, Services In Springfield

Funeral services for Charles Ray Waters Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Waters of Springfield, were held Sunday at Bisch and Son Memorial Home.

The baby, born Jan. 4, 1966 at Springfield's Memorial hospital, died April 28 at Children's hospital in Chicago.

He is survived by his parents, Charles R. and Ethel Marie Birdsall Waters; two sisters, Pauline Marie and Kathleen Ann; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waters of Springfield and Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Birdsall, rural Alexander and his great-grandparents, Asa Turner of Jacksonville and Mrs. Ida Spahnower, Springfield.

Reverend Lee Rule of Pastfield Park Baptist church officiated during the funeral service. Burial was in Pulliam cemetery, near Waverly.

Osteen Setting Dodger's Pace This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers' pitching staff again is leading the major leagues in complete games, but with a new man setting the pace.

Claude Osteen has posted four road-going performances for the Dodgers, who topped both circuits last season with 58.

Osteen, who pitched only nine complete games in 1965, and Juan Marichal of San Francisco are tied for the individual lead this year.

Sam McDowell of Cleveland tops the American League with three. He has pitched one-hitters in his last two starts.

The Dodgers' staff has pitched nine complete games. The Giants are next with eight while Cleveland is the American League leader with six.

Sandy Koufax has gone the distance three times and Don Drysdale and rookie Don Sutton one each for the Dodgers. Koufax had the majors' individual high of 27 in 1965.

In addition to Koufax and McDowell, others with three complete games are Chris Short of Philadelphia and Bob Gibson of St. Louis. The figures include games through Monday.

Pitchers who've gone the distance twice are Ken Johnson of Atlanta, Mike Cuellar and Dave Giusti of Houston, Jim Bunning of Philadelphia, Bob Veale of Pittsburgh, Gaylord Perry and Bob Bolin of San Francisco, Jim Grant of Minnesota, Luis Tiant of Cleveland and Bill Monbouquette of Detroit.

National League pitchers have had 45 complete games in 83 games compared to 25 in 71 games for the American League.

Say 11 Fliers Shot Down Over Laos Since '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Tuesday night 11 U.S. fliers have been killed over Laos in the past two years in operations which have been cloaked in official secrecy.

The toll, provided on request, represented a crack in the secrecy which has been maintained largely to avoid embarrassing the Laotian government.

In addition to the 11 air crewmen killed, the Pentagon said fewer than 20 are missing or held prisoner by the Communists.

U.S. air operations against Communist infiltration routes leading through Laos to South Viet Nam have been intensified in recent months.

However, defense officials have refused to talk about such operations to avoid embarrassing the Laotian government which has given approval for these interdiction attacks.

The weekly Defense Department rundown on Viet Nam war casualties has made no mention of losses in Laos.

Last week, the Pentagon acknowledged that Air Force Capt. Richard Robbins of Temple, Ariz., and Cleveland Heights, Ohio, had been killed on April 19 during a search-and-rescue mission in southeastern Laos.

On the heels of this acknowledgement, the Pentagon was asked for the toll for air operations over Laos from the beginning.

In response, the Pentagon replied, without elaboration: "Since May 1964, when the United States began aerial reconnaissance over Laos at the request of the royal Laotian government, 11 air crewmen have been killed and less than 20 are in a missing or detained status."

The Laotian request referred to involved observation of infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into Laos at a time when the Laotian government was expecting the annual offensive by pro-Communist Pathet Lao and Red North Vietnamese forces.

Laborites Announce New Industrial Tax

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government announced Tuesday a new payroll tax aimed at channeling workers into the nation's manufacturing industries and helping the country regain its role as a workshop for the world. Corporation taxes were increased.

Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan also told the House of Commons in his annual budget message that the government is starting an American-style voluntary system of limiting overseas investment. This is to help the convalescing British pound.

Some Taxes Kept
 Callaghan's budget message had some good news for the man in the street — the traditional beer, tobacco, income and auto taxes were left untouched at their current high levels.

But the new payroll tax on employers will act indirectly as a 3 or 4 per cent sales tax on the service industries and probably will raise prices on services ranging from legal fees to dry cleaning, and the cost of food and clothing.

Callaghan walloped British bookies by imposing a betting tax of 2½ per cent of their turnover.

And he hit at Britain's spreading gambling clubs and casinos, where everything goes from roulette to craps, by imposing a gambling tax calling for a larger government cut in the takings.

Callaghan announced a corporation tax rate of 40 per cent on company earnings. This represented a slight rise from the old system of combined profits and income taxes, but it was not as bad as some industrialists had feared, and stock exchange prices bounded up.

That is the purpose of the payroll tax, a common economic tool in Western Europe, Callaghan explained that in the past five years, manufacturing employment in Britain rose by 142,000 workers, while employment in services, distribution and construction increased by more than a million.

The result has been a crippling labor shortage and severe production bottlenecks in some vital export industries such as autos, ship building and heavy machinery, Callaghan said.

Claim Finding Manner Cells Combat Viruses

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two scientists, one a college dropout, Tuesday reported that they have found the apparent way living cells fight off virus invasion.

Cells under attack produce a substance, interferon, that blocks translation of the genetic message carried by the viruses, said Dr. Philip I. Marcus and Jesse M. Salb, 19, of Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York City.

Marcus is an associate professor of microbiology and immunology. Salb is a laboratory assistant who until recently had worked with Marcus each summer since 1961. They described the results of their research to the American Society for Microbiology.

Viruses attack target cells by introducing their own genetic material — RNA or DNA — into the cell, forcing the cell to produce viral messenger-RNA that instructs the cell to make proteins for viruses.

The virus infection, however, also stimulates the cell to produce interferon, a protective protein. Marcus and Salb find that interferon induces the cell to produce another protein — which they call translational inhibitory protein. This protein apparently binds to ribosomes, and blocks the translation of "orders" contained in the virus messenger-RNA, they said.

Interferon can block production of viral RNA without disturbing production of the cell's own RNA. Just how the cell can distinguish between its own messenger-RNA and viral RNA hasn't been determined.

Young Salb, 14, approached Marcus in July, 1961, saying, "I've read all your papers and I wonder if I could work for you during the summer." Marcus recalled. Marcus said Salb had a home laboratory and was performing "very sophisticated experiments for a boy his age."

He attended City College of New York in 1964-65, while working in the laboratory, but did rather poorly in biology, the medical college said. He was coauthor with Marcus of an intricate research report published last November in proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Marcus D. Kogel, Dean of Albert Einstein College of Medicine, said the staff is urging Salb to continue his formal education.

"Although a college dropout, the boy is intellectually on the level of a young Ph.D. who has been able to open new areas of knowledge in a most complicated field, and who cannot afford to spend the time to meet formal requirements set for ordinary students," he added.

word "God" comes up during a classroom discussion the teacher should not enter any theological discussion involving the word. However, he said he feels also the teacher should not disclaim any "good teaching of the child may have gotten at home."

Under cross examination by Ralph Johns, attorney for the De Spains, Berge was asked his personal feeling about whether "you" means God in the rhyme's last line.

He said he feels that Jonas "has no right to ask me that" and he was supported in his stand by Judge Edwin A. Robson.

Judge Robson said that Berge had replied to the questions put by Jonas "as they related to the school" but he did not have to reply concerning his personal feelings.

Berge said the rhyme in question was "used very extensively" in schools in other states when kindergarten children are given milk and cookies.

He said he feels that its use in De Kalb schools is proper and that he had never received a complaint from any other parent about it.

Mrs. Esther Watne, 63, who was Laura's kindergarten teacher, said earlier that she believes "in the Divine Being and I bring my philosophy into the classroom because as a teacher that's my job."

She testified she teaches pupils to say "thank you and please for everything from the day the children start kindergarten...to be thankful and grateful...to learn good manners and good citizenship."

Freeman Denies LBJ Attempting To Level Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said Tuesday farm prices are not inflationary and denied that the Johnson administration is attempting to "put a lid" on them.

The secretary said anti-inflation measures taken by the administration on farm products are designed to stabilize prices by attempting to eliminate what he called the cyclical price changes flowing from the ups and downs of production.

Policies Under Fire
 Freeman offered this defense of administration farm policies which have come under sharp criticism from some farm groups and members of Congress. In an interview on the NBC "Today" television program, the secretary said American farmers are making real economic progress.

Freeman made the comments at a time when he is reported being urged to battle efforts by some White House officials to roll back farm prices as a means of heading off inflation dangers.

He described as "a lot of demagoguery" attacks made on those policies. This is an election year, he said, and the main thing that farmers should remember is that "farm income is up."

There were reports of a strategy of a possible Freeman attack on White House advisers was discussed at a secret meeting of the secretary and top associates last Saturday with President Hubert H. Humphrey and several Minnesotaans in Congress and government. Both Humphrey and Freeman are from Minnesota.

But a spokesman for Humphrey described the meeting as "routine" and one of a dozen held over the past couple of months with Freeman and his advisers. There was "nothing untoward about it," he said.

Humphrey's spokesman said the vice president has been designated by President Johnson to meet with the group from time to time to discuss farm policy. The spokesman added that "needless to say—the vice president is not about to be opposing the President's policies."

The administration has come under bitter attack of many farm groups and leaders, including some Democratic members of Congress for anti-inflation policies affecting farmers. These policies have resulted in limitations on exports of hides and skins; an increase in import quotas on cheese to check price advances; a Defense Department cutback in prime pork purchases because the administration considered prices to be too high; heavy sale of government grains to prevent possible price increases, and administration proposals for reductions in farm appropriations.

Freeman acted Tuesday to seek reversal of one of those policies. He recommended to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that he "give immediate consideration to increased purchases of pork for use in military troop feeding in the United States, or where the farm reductions applied" in February.

The agriculture secretary said hog prices are about 20 per cent lower than in January and pork prices are also low, although prices may rise seasonally during the next two or three months. He said "we expect that prices later this year will be below current levels."

Informants in the Agriculture Department and Congress said Freeman received conflicting advice about a course of action. Some were said to have argued that the administration's image among farmers is getting bad and it is his duty to try to correct this, even if it means criticizing the chief White House adviser in the economic field, Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors.

Farm critics blame Ackley for most of the farm policy decisions they dislike.

 ATLANTA (AP) — Felipe Alou's two-out single in the 10th inning scored Woody Woodward, lifting the Atlanta Braves past the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8 Tuesday night.

Woodward beat out a bunt with one out in the 10th and was sacrificed to second by relief pitcher Phil Niekro before Alou broke the 8-8 tie with a single to left.

The Braves tied the score in the eighth when Gary Geiger tripled in two runs. Bill White's two-run homer, a three-base error by center fielder Alou and Doug Clemens' run-scoring single had sent the Phillies ahead 8-6 in the top of the eighth.

Players' Request Is Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's major leagues rejected Tuesday the players' request for $150,000 a year from the pension fund to run their own permanent office under the direction of Marvin Miller, a steel union official.

"It is not feasible to assist the organization with pension fund money," said Commissioner William D. Eckert at a news conference following a joint meeting of the American and National leagues.

"Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins and John Edwards of the Cincinnati Reds the two league player representatives have been so advised," said Eckert. "The commissioner will call a meeting at the convenience of the players, executive council and pension committee to discuss further the situation."

Eckert said the meeting probing of the secretary and top associates last Saturday with President Hubert H. Humphrey and several Minnesotaans in Congress and government. Both Humphrey and Freeman are from Minnesota.

Dick Gregory Given Five Month Jail Sentence

CHICAGO (AP) — Entertainer Dick Gregory was sentenced Tuesday to five months in the Cook County jail and fined $1,400 on charges of resisting arrest and of battery during a civil rights demonstration June 11, 1965.

Magistrate Maurice W. Lee in Circuit Court, in passing sentence on the Negro comedian, said although Gregory contended he was exercising his constitutional right "no one has the right to break the law."

After spending more than an hour in a Criminal Court cell, Gregory was released on $5,000 appeal bond.

Gregory was convicted in a jury trial April 22 on two charges each of battery and resisting arrest. He was accused of biting the police during his arrest and the arrests of some 220 other demonstrators who were protesting against the administration of School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis.

China Charges Russian Aide 'Is A Liar'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China declared Wednesday that Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky "is a liar."

Peking was replying to a speech Malinovsky made in Hungary April 21. The marshal said aid for North Viet Nam was being hampered by the Chinese, who were delaying transit of arms.

A spokesman of the Communist Chinese Foreign Ministry declared in a statement broadcast by Radio Peking that "China has never hampered the transit of Soviet aid materials to North Viet Nam."

"All military aid materials which Viet Nam asked for and which the Soviet Union delivered to China have been transported to Viet Nam by China with priority, at high speed and free of charge," the spokesman added.

"From February 1965, when the Soviet Union asked for the sending of its aid materials to Viet Nam through China, up to the end of 1965 China transported a total of 43,000 odd tons of Soviet military aid supplies to Viet Nam."

Peking charged most of the Soviet military supplies to Hanoi consisted of old weapons and some of them are "worn out and of no use at all." It described Soviet aid to North Viet

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Record profits are supplying ammunition to the critics of business policies. But business, resenting this criticism of its price and wage stands, has countercharges of its own.

Labor is using this year's big jump in corporate earnings as an argument for a greater share for the workers.

Government spokesmen are using the net income climb as a talking point in their drive to halt price increases — and also as a basis for threatening tax increases on corporate income to cool down the booming economy.

On only one thing do all sides agree: Corporate profits have risen to the greatest dollar volume in history and the rise so far this year has been at a rate that few formerly thought could be attained.

Industry's answer is that if the dollar volume of profits is tremendous, so is everything else: production, sales, payrolls, materials costs, tax payments at all levels of government.

Some industries insist that their profits must rise still more if they are to finance the growth and modernization that today's high-stepping economy demands.

And to this some company chiefs are adding that prices must go up still more if they are to keep step with rising costs and with the need for more profit dollars to finance growth.

Business spokesmen also deny government officials' charges that business expansion plans and price and profit policies offer the biggest threat of a ruinous inflation ahead.

Industry spokesmen insist that an equally big threat is the rapid rise in government spending. They call upon Washington to do more than propose token gestures of holding down its outlays. In this business-held view, the efforts to get business to cut down on spending for growth just now should be matched by a like restraint at the government level.

But the profit figures themselves can't be denied. With few exceptions, corporations are reporting their first quarter earnings well ahead of a year ago. The first 500 to report show total profits after taxes of $4.5 billion this year, against $4 billion in the first three months of 1965.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, says this gain "substantially exceeds the rise in national income or the rise in employee compensation over that period."

Labor leaders will use this. They also will note that Ackley added that over the last year price increases have offset higher pay rates and longer working hours, so that the purchasing power of factory workers now isn't any greater than a year ago.
